SPORTSMANSHIP BY MOOKS WINS ALHAMBRA DEDICATION

Alhambra's 1939 undefeated football champions so clearly demonstrated sportsmanship, spirit, courage, confidence, and intelligence that the staff has chosen to honor high school football with the dedication of this 1940 edition of the "ALHAMBRAN."

Nothing Provincial About Superintendent

Building New School and Stream-Lined System Fails To Keep Him Tied Down

Vaulting state boundaries with the same grace and speed that he exhibited not so many years ago as a U.S.C. pole vaulter, Superintendent George E. Bettinger made a sweeping personal survey of national educational trends from New England to the Gulf of Mexico during the last week of February and the first of March.

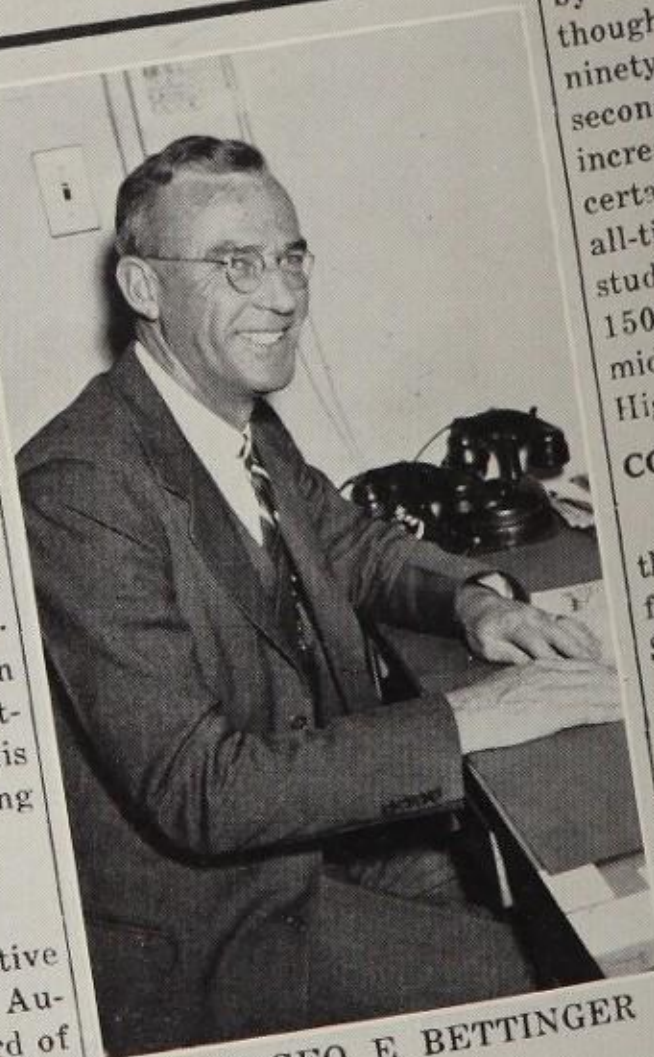

In a single fortnight the head man of Alhambra's rapidly growing school system attended the sessions of the American Association of School Administrators at St. Louis, then visited schools in Windsor, Connecticut, Williamsburg, Virginia, and Jacksonville, Florida, and returned to Alhambra on March 9.

The convention of the American Association of School Administrators that he attended in St. Louis was the seventieth annual meeting of the organization.

MILLER AT CONCLAVE

Alhambra's other representative at the St. Louis conclave was Aubry Miller, member of the Board of Education, who accompanied the superintendent that far, but was forced by business to return home immediately after the sessions. Mr. Miller brought back to the Alhambra Board of Education a report on the convention concern-

STOKESBARY HAS NEW POSITION

With the appointment of Maurice R. Stokesbary as Assistant Superintendent of Schools early this year, Alhambra saw one of its youngest, most popular, and most versatile educators reach the second and highest position in the local school system.

Board Burns Midnight Oil To Keep Schools In Step

With the completion and opening of the modern attractive Mark Keppel High School as the highlight of its year's activity, the Board of Education of the Alhambra City Schools has carried through successfully one of the most eventful years in the history of Alhambra education.

These outstanding citizens have given many more hours of their valuable time than most Boards have been called on to give, and have

New Campus Programs And Policies Give Principal Vigorous Semester

Completely relaxing from his very commendable, but strenuous, work as Principal of Alhambra High since the division of the local secondary school system into two parts, Mr. Harold M. Werre pulled a "quicky" by silently (during Easter week) driving to Detroit, buying himself a brand new, shiny car, and then driving home again with all the due ceremony expected from a "man who owns one."

SMILES AT "UNUSUALS"

PRINCIPAL HAROLD M. WERRE

Mr. Werre has been unusually busy since the school was divided in February, due to the inauguration of one-hour periods, closed campus, fewer C-Rs, different hours, and the general curricular changes.

Along with these duties, Mr. Werre served on the community chest committee, starred in the "Corn Tassel Follies," and, after several tries, finally succeeded in crowning the gracious queen of the Story Book Parade, Miss Jeanne Olivera.

Hailing from the University of Montana, where he was a "Grizzly" track star, Mr. Werre started his teaching career at White Hall High School in that State.

Start Of World War II Seen By A. H. S. Librarian

Narrow escape from Poland on the day Hitler was expected to make his "big push" there, and the harrowing experience of rescue from the sinking "Athenia" were highlights of the perilous European tour taken by Miss Cosby Gilstrap, Alhambra High School Librarian, and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Gilstrap, former president of the Board of Education, during last summer's eventful vacation period.

MOOR PRINCIPAL AUGMENTS ACTING OF 'OLD SOLDIERS'

"Heh, heh—I've got you in my power!"

No, it's not Mr. Coffee Nerves, but only the black-mustached villain in the thrilling four-act meller-drammer, "Corn Tassel County Frantic Follies," given in the Alhambra High School auditorium February 29 by the John Howard Strain Post No. 139, American Legion. The cast was made up of Alhambra business and professional men.

Principal Werre played the role of Ole Olson, the Swede, Public Hero No. 1 in the eyes of the heroine, Susan Winchester, a lovely lady who weathered some forty-five winters, played by Jack Mathews.

Next on the list of Susan's affections is Mr. Sam Slocum, a wealthy widower from New York. This role was taken by Lewis Kanaga.

The rest of the cast included Charles Winchester, Susan's inventor brother; Jane, a very pleasing young lady; Poly O'Shea, the Winchester's Irish Maid; Joshua Pratt, a money-loving, work-hating farmer, who thinks a rich wife would solve his problems; Beulah, Susan's hired girl; Elmer, a high-pressure salesman who could sell books to a blind man; and the villain, the black-mustached gentlemen who demands that the mortgage on the old homestead be paid, or else.

MISS BLOUNT PLAYS ROLE OF HOSTESS

Miss Effine P. Blount, girls' vice-principal, played the role of hostess at a department head tea held at her home, 1010 North First Street, Alhambra, Monday, March 25.

Enjoying the social hour were eighteen members, including Mr. Bettinger and Mr. Stokesbary, who were special guests.

The group was given an interesting account of the Superintendent's Convention at St. Louis by Mr. Bettinger, who attended it recently. The regular monthly business session was held after the social program.

GIVING' HEADED BY MISS BLOUNT

More than 400 people were given tangible proof of the Christmas spirit in the form of money and food submitted by the Girls' League and Boys' Federation during Christmas vacation, the former under the direction of Miss Effine P. Blount, girls' vice-principal, and the latter under the guidance of Bruce M. Lawson, vice-principal for boys.

Selection and preparation of 121 baskets for needy families entailed long hours of extra work during December for Miss Blount especially, but she seemed to "thrive" as usual on overtime work of this type.

Miss Blount's office was the headquarters for Hostesses during the first week of school, and "forlorn scrubs" were there given friendly advice in place of the practical jokes tried on them by "cocky sophomores." At Miss Blount's office they were warned that "there are no elevators" at Alhambra High School.

Alhambra was well represented throughout the year in all Southern California Girls' League activities, thanks to the energy and leadership of Miss Blount.

Parent-Teachers Award Bruce M. Lawson High Honor

Life Membership Given At Founders' Day Meeting, Represents Highest Achievement

Because of his devotion to the interests of the students, his work in the field of child welfare, and his co-operation with the Parent-Teacher movement, Bruce M. Lawson, boys' vice-principal of Alhambra High School, was awarded a life membership in the Parent-Teacher Association at the Founders' Day meeting, held Thursday evening, February 29.

Annual Conclave Attended By B. M. L.

While students, sprawling on the nearby sands, scowled at a foggy Easter vacation sky, Bruce M. Lawson, Alhambra vice-principal, was busy gathering the latest views and facts on educational administration as Alhambra High School's representative at the annual convention of the Secondary Principals' Association of California, held at Long Beach on March 18, 19, and 20.

With convention headquarters at the Hilton Hotel, these administrators from all parts of California listened to nationally known speakers such as Cameron Beck of Radio City in their general sessions at the Municipal Auditorium, and broke up into discussion groups for study of more detailed problems. Walter Dexter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was a prominent leader at the sessions.

Other administrators from the Alhambra City Schools who were official representatives at the convention included Harold Heyl, principal of the continuation and night school; Lawrence White, principal of Mark Keppel High School, and Norman Sherer, vice-principal at Mark Keppel.

FRESHMAN PARTY

In honor of B9 and new girls, the Girls' League gave an informal welcome party Wednesday, October 18, between 3 and 4 p.m., in the girls' gym. The executive board, the social chairman, Betty Jane Hawkins, her committee, and Miss Blount, were in charge of the affair. Members of the advisory board also acted as hostesses.

The faculty guests were Mrs. Crosswhite, Mr. Werre, and Mr. Kreinbring.

This rarely given award is the highest honor the association can bestow on an individual. The twenty-five dollars with which the local organization purchased this life membership for Mr. Lawson goes into the State revolving student loan fund, which is designed to help students, who otherwise could not afford it, to secure an advanced education.

Mr. Lawson, who has been in the service of the Alhambra school system since 1926, attended Garfield elementary school, Franklin High School in Los Angeles, Occidental College, and did advanced work at Occidental and U.S.C. He is a member of the Phi Delta Kappa, Alpha Tau Omega, belongs to the Exchange Club of Alhambra, and is past-president of the Community Council.

Schedule Now Aids Guidance

One of the first persons every incoming freshman met in February was Mrs. Helen V. Hood.

With 3700 students per day guidance was almost a nightmare. But with the present enrollment of 2400, Mrs. Hood, students' Counselor, is working hard to make skillful and helpful guidance completely effective at Alhambra High School.

Even under the difficulties attending the old set-up, Mrs. Hood succeeded in doing inestimable good in analyzing the difficulties of students and starting

That enthusiastic Bruin Alumni representative, Dale Stoddard, has been acting unusually pleased with the world lately. Can it be that U. C. L. A. is due for a string of winning teams? Retaining his family humor even when a student asked to be allowed five classes, Registrar Stoddard set a new semester in patience.

Not so, for he finds that the fewer classes are more than offset by his office by 800. With the new schedule per day in much more of into just the need.

Mr. Casey, Child Welfare Director of Alhambra and Director of Attendance at Alhambra High School, really isn't the bogey-man some people would make him out to be. A pleasant and likeable fellow toward everyone—even those he must take under his wing from time to time—he does his job very efficiently, and with a minimum of reprimands and cross words. Being of a quiet nature, Mr. Casey is rarely seen or heard, but he's on the job all the time.

Part of Mr. Casey's duty that is often overlooked is the representation of Child Welfare for Alhambra at all sorts of meetings and occasions. He was a very busy man the last Monday in February when the California Association of Supervisors of Child Welfare met in Alhambra, with luncheon at the Masonic Temple and their afternoon meeting in the Garfield auditorium. Mr. Casey also attends meetings of the State Labor Commission which are called to interpret complicated school laws.

All in all, E. J. Casey is a dynamo of Irish energy. Enough said.

Transformation of an extensive orange grove into a comfortable hacienda with all modern improvements from badminton court to swimming pool is the hobby of the man who sponsors the Senior Hi-Y Club, teaches classes in social science and, incidentally, serves as Assistant Truant Officer to E. Well - Known

As far as is known, the Alhambra High School student who never heard of A. Ewing Konold, just doesn't exist. This doesn't mean that most Alhambra students get into situations where they meet Mr. Konold officially, but rather that he is quick to make friends although holding a position that might easily be an unpopular one. Mr. Konold, it has been said, is

IMPORTANT WORK IN GOOD HANDS

It is doubtful if anyone connected with the Alhambra School System does a more thorough piece of work than Miss Ina McCullom, head of the attendance office. Contrary to the popular impression of those who try to obtain a white tardy slip from her on a weak alibi, Miss McCullom is a very generous personality.

COMMENCEMENT CEREMONIES FOR 242 SENIORS HELD IN A. H. S. AUDITORIUM

EIGHT SENIORS WIN LIFE MEMBERSHIP IN SCHOLASTIC FEDERATION

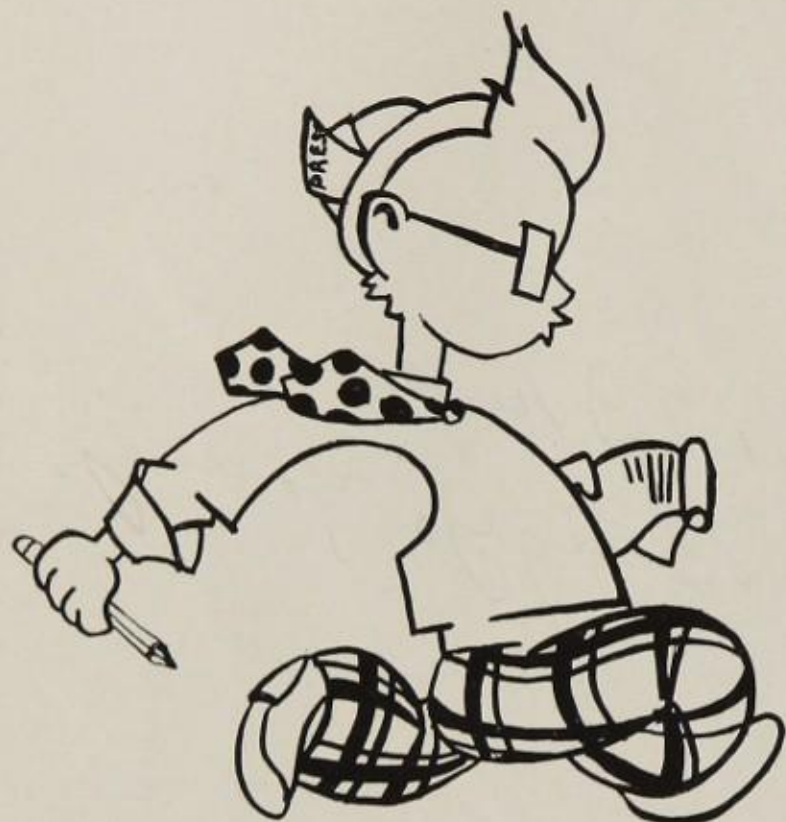

As the last senior class to be graduated from Alhambra High School before it was divided, 242 Moors of the winter class of 1940 became alumni after they received their diplomas at commencement on February 1, 1940.

With eight members winning life memberships in the California Scholastic Federation, and four receiving half-time memberships, the class stood out for its scholastic ability.

Originality was another characteristic of their class, as shown by the fact that they were the first to have student speakers at commencement.

Double Trouble . . .

Mr. Charles C. Scanlon, class adviser, just barely got these 242 seniors out into the world before Charles Clark Scanlon II arrived to complicate the unemployment problem. C. C. II has the makings of a future senior president.

Pictured above are the Winter '39 class officers after leaving a meeting in which they discussed plans of their class day program.

"FAMILY UPSTAIRS" COMEDY "WOWS" IN LUNEBURG FINALE AT A. H. S.

ELIZABETH SCHWEIGER AND STANLEY SHELLMAN PORTRAY ROMANTIC LEADS

Acclaimed a rollicking success by all who attended the performances, "The Family Upstairs," a comedy, which was presented on the stage of the A.H.S. Auditorium on the afternoon of November 30 and the evening of December 1, is definitely a credit to the talented students who presented the family life of the Hellers as the senior play of the Winter '40 Class.

This was the first comedy production by a senior class in several seasons and under the very capable directorship of Mr. James Luneberg and Student Director Virginia Lee Smith, the senior cast really "wowed" them with grand entertainment. This was Mr. Luneberg's last A.H.S. play, as he went to Mark Keppel in February, as head of the department there.

After weeks of effort, the problems of the Hellers, a family from the Bronx, New York, were presented in a superb fashion by such talented persons as Elizabeth Schweiger and Stanley Shellman, who played the romantic leads as Louise Heller and Charles Grant.

Sharing equal billing with them were Carol Vandercook as "Ma" Heller and Fred Scovell as "Pa" Heller, both of whom turned in grand performances. The Heller children, Annabelle and Willie, as portrayed by Jean Hanna and Fred Thornburgh added color to the show by creating humorous situations and "getting in every one's hair" in general.

Cast as Mrs. Grant, Charles' mother, Barbara Covington presented a remarkable characterization as did Joan Sarnierman as the tearful dressmaker, Mrs. Callahan.

Mrs. Boone and the stagecraft class very successfully reproduced the middle-class flat with its old and rather dilapidated furnishings which formed the setting for the play.

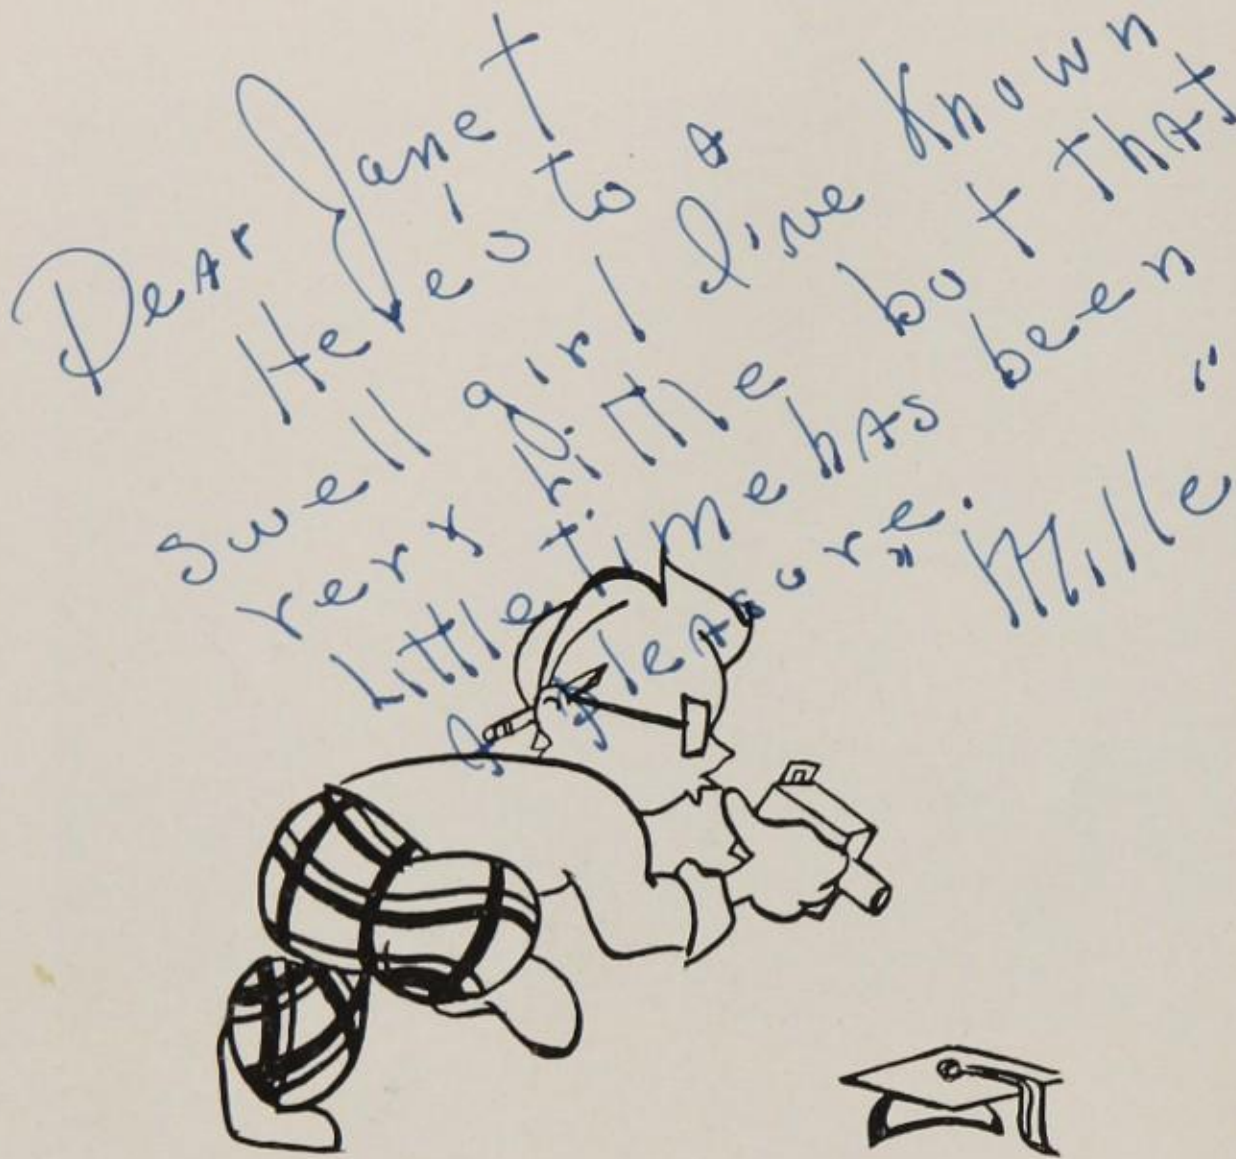

The casting and directing of the whole production was excellent as was the work done by the make-up crew.

This play has set a high standard in talent and workmanship for the students of future productions to aim toward.

Shown below are some of the calmer scenes from the Winter '40 senior play, "Family Upstairs," which was acclaimed a hilarious success by the entire audience.

SUMMER '40 SENIORS INAUGURATE NEW "SENIOR WEEK"

DR. FRANK C. BAXTER OF U.S.C. GIVES JUNE COMMENCEMENT TALK

"A Senior Week," was the cause of the change in the usual plan of the graduates year, it was disclosed by Mr. Miller, class adviser.

The biggest tradition which was broken was the fact that the senior play was changed to June. The play this year was "Stage Door." The two leading characters were portrayed by Koueta Ocheltree and Norman Tanzzer, and the play was directed by Mrs. Wynne.

In years before a special program was staged before both assemblies, but this year only a few people were allowed to see the class day.

Received Diplomas

On June 20, approximately four hundred nineteen seniors marched across Moor Field to receive their diplomas signifying the completion of four years of high school education.

32 SPRING SENIORS PLAY IN "STAGE DOOR" CAST

Laughs galore were furnished by Winifred Le Roy, extreme left, as illustrated above in the production "Stage Door." At right are Koueta Ocheltree and Norman Tantzler in a romantic scene from the play.

OCHELTREE & TANTZER AS LEADS GIVE GRAND PERFORMANCES IN "STAGE DOOR"

The "Stage Door," play, opened, to reveal that Koueta Ocheltree and Norman Tantzer received the scripts for the stellar roles.

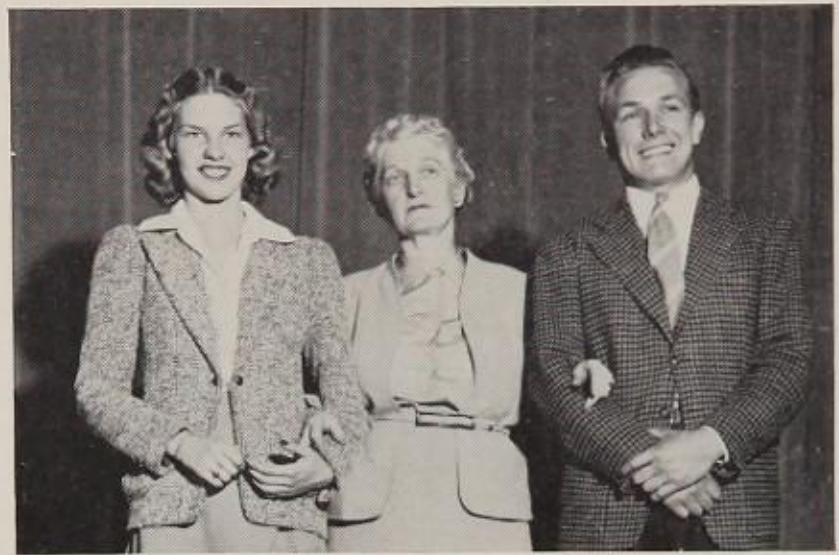

Other leading portrayals in the graduates' production of the dramatic Kaufman and Ferber story "Stage Door" were made by Winifred Le Roy and Jean Larson, while Jerry Gawthrop had the vital task of guiding the large cast through this difficult play, as the student director.

WYNNE, ADVISER

Mrs. Bertha Wynne, A.H.S., dramatics teacher, served as faculty director.

Koueta Ocheltree beautifully portrayed the part of Terry Randall, a wealthy girl, who being stage-struck becomes an actress through the suffering of a far better actress than she.

Jean Larson portrayed the part of Kaye Hamilton, the fine but neglected actress, with as much feeling as did Andrea Leeds, in the cinema production. Norman Tantzer was practically cut out for his part of the producer, David Kingsley.

Jananne Gawthrop, student director; Mrs. Bertha Wiley Wynne; Mark Hoyal, assistant student director.

The entire cast relaxes long enough for the cameraman to take the picture below:

19 STUDENTS RETURN FOR FURTHER EDUCATION

NORMAL SIZE SCHOOL INCREASES ENROLLMENT OF POST GRADS

More students were allowed this year to return after graduation for further activities at their school than for many years. This was possible because of the more normal size of the regular student body enrollment.

Many returned to fulfill unfinished duties, and some to further their culture. They are as follows: Bill Glassey, Roy Klotz, Charles McFate, Margery Lindberg, La Vonne Peckham, Bill Scofield, Laura Pletcher, Carolyn Shaver, Dick Clark, Francis Graham, Pearl Haffling, Joan Stewart, Patricia Settles, Lynn Clark, Leonard Holman, Donald Beesh, Carolyn Hall, Jean Brown, and Margery Bishop.

1939-40 MOOR FACULTY MEMBERS

EXPERIENCE EXCITEMENT

Seven Faculty Members Caught In European War Danger Zone

To start the 1939-1940 edition of Moordom off with a bang, seven of Alhambra's teachers found themselves caught in the European entanglement. Miss Cosby Gilstrap, high school librarian; her mother, Mrs. Lillian Gilstrap; Miss Janice Martin, of the English department; Miss Ruth Turnbull, science teacher; and Miss Helen Kemper, of the oral English department, were aboard the "Athenia" at the time of its fateful explosion.

Miss Lillian Zellhoefer, now head of Mark Keppel's English department; Miss Isabelle Pettefer, journalist; and artful Mr. Lester M. Bonar barely escaped hot Europe and Asia to home and school.

Mr. Walter Zick; Mr. Archie Tisdell; and the former Miss Catherine Tingler, now Mrs. Kennedy; were the three faculty members to wed during the year, while Mr. E. J. Casey and Mr. C. C. Scanlon were quite floored by the arrivals of their respective sons.

Eight new teachers came to the halls of Moordom in September. Nine more trooped up the front steps in February to replace the deserters to Mark Keppel.

Special honors went to Mr. Bruce M. Lawson in the form of a life membership in the Parent-Teachers Association as a reward for his service in the fields of child welfare, student educational development, and co-operation with the P.-T.A. Additional orchids should be sent Mr. Herbert D. Hooper, A.H.S. mathematician, for his versatility in the field of entertainment.

Along with the students, the faculty mourned the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Ten Hagen, beloved member of the English department.

SENIOR B's EXPERIMENT IN CABINET TYPE CLASS GOVERNMENT

IRWIN RIDES ON B-12 CLASS FLOAT

With a new type of student government, the Winter Class of 1941 has started out on a very successful school year. The student government this year, instead of being of the regular "president, vice-president, treasurer, and secretary" form, is of a student council form. This idea, suggested by Mr. Scanlon, the class adviser, is being carried out very successfully by Tommy Dalkas, James Stevens, Beverly Gorill, Dean Stillwagon, Nelson Burdett, Jimmie Cutting, and Jeannie Olivera, who are the members of the council. The council elected Tommy Dalkas as president of the group.

The B-12 Class selected a queen to ride on the float which they entered in the Story Book Parade. The winner of the contest which ensued was Janice Irwin, who rode on the float dressed in a Cap and Gown and carrying a diploma. The float was escorted by a group of Senior B's wearing their new sweaters.

A11 CLASS SPONSORS PROM; ANTICIPATES SENIOR YEAR

COMBINED JUNIORS PRESENT AFTER-SCHOOL DANCE

Carrying out the theme, "The Starlit Hour," the couples at the 1940 Junior-Senior Prom on June 8 danced inside a huge enclosure which was made in the form of a star. With all the rest of the decorations corresponding to the main star, a beautiful effect was created which will long be remembered by all who attended this annual affair, always staged in El Moro Ballroom.

In order to promote the Prom, these upper Juniors, combined with the B11 class, held an after-school dance in the Girls' Gym. Music was furnished by all of the latest recordings, and everyone present admitted that the eleventh grades know how to "throw a party."

Mrs. M. E. Thornton, the class adviser, ably assisted by class President Craig Harvey, Vice-President Bill Cameron, Secretary Eveleen Winterbottom, and Treasurer Lola Mae Cameron, was given credit for making one of the biggest affairs of the year a complete success.

APRIL 24, B11 CLASS SPONSORS "NORTHWEST PASSAGE"

BACKWARD DANCE HELPS FINANCE PROM

"Northwest Passage," starring Spencer Tracy and Robert Young, sent chills and thrills up and down the vertebrae of hundreds of Alhambra High students who were packed into the Garfield theatre on the evening of April 24 by the special B11-sponsored sale of tickets to this exciting show.

This was just one of the methods of raising money used by the two junior classes. An after-school, backward dance, which was a great success financially as well as socially, was also given by the junior 1A's and junior B's in a combined effort to put over the annual Junior Prom.

An active and exciting junior year will always be remembered by the B11 students because of the careful and helpful leadership of Mr. Ed Oleson, class adviser, and Joe Swartz, president; Lois Harvey, vice-president; Jeanne Steed, secretary; and Edith Rockwell, treasurer.

The Class President, below, has a gay time with his duties . . . or at least that is how it looks. Left to right they are: Harvey, vice-president; Rockwell, treasurer; Swartz, president; Steed, secretary; Mr. Ed Oleson, adviser.

VARIED PLAN OF SOCIAL GATHERINGS PRESENTED BY A10 CLASS

ALL HIGH SOPHOMORE OFFICERS ARE GIRLS

In a combined 10th Year Class meeting, held in November, professional dancers Robert Ramirez and Barbara Turner, both Sophomore students, presented some of their Spanish dances to entertain their fellow students, marking the first activity of the A-10 Class.

A little later in November, the extremely large class gave a "super skating party" which showed to A.H.S. the unusually fine class spirit.

Pan-Pacific marked the next event of the socially inclined Sophomores. For January, the class sponsored an ice-skating party. In May they gave another roller skating party.

A final class meeting was held after school in April with a surprisingly large number of Sophomores attending. Much desirable talent was exhibited and a special act from the tumblers of the Boys' Physical Education Department was presented.

MOONLIGHT ROLLER WAY SCENE OF FIRST B10 SOCIAL EVENT

GRIDLEY WINS HEATED REVOTE FOR V.-PRES.

Breezing over the open boards at the Moonlight rollerway in Pasadena, the B10 Sophomore class was seen rolling its cares away, during their first social event of the semester, a hilarious roller-skating party, on November 19.

A swimming party was next on the list of parties held by the class, to be followed by an after-school dance given at the school's El Moro Ballroom. In all of their activities the class has maintained sufficient order, to accomplish more than was expected of them.

Much of the credit for a successful sophomore year is due to the guidance of Mr. Clyde Healton, class adviser, and the class officers. They are: Albert Beaty, president; John Gridley, vice-president; Jimmy Walters, secretary; and Bill Hunt, treasurer.

NEW NAME OF SUMMER '43 MIGHT WELL BE FROSH "400"

FRESHMEN ENJOY MANY ACTIVITIES

Although the opening of the new Mark Keppel High School greatly diminished the population of A. H. S., this year's A-9 class has nearly four hundred students.

In spite of the fact their class was split in the middle of their Freshman year and that they have had a new adviser each semester, the "scrubs" have readily adapted themselves to high school life and have entered into many activities with a spirit that is very remarkable.

The only social affair of the year was a rollerskating party held after Easter vacation. Except for a few minor mishaps everyone who attended had a "super time."

The graduating class of Summer '43 will always remember Miss Nina C. Wade, their class adviser, and their officers, Bob Burkheimer, president, Aurona Talley, vice-president, Carolynne Tague, secretary, and Pat McCarthy, treasurer, for making their first year in high school one that they will never forget.

SMALLEST B9 CLASS IN MANY YEARS ENTERS IN FEBRUARY

NEW MARK KEPPEL BORROWS FRESHMEN

On February first, the smallest class in many years entered Alhambra High School. For the past few years the Freshman classes have been steadily growing in size, but this year, because of the opening of Mark Keppel High School, the usual wide-eyed procession of hopeful Freshmen was noticeably smaller.

The long-awaited opening of the new Mark Keppel High School once more brought a freshman class of reasonable size to A.H.S.

The unusual advantages of a smaller class should make it possible for Miss Beeman, the class adviser, and the class officers, Robert Brandon, Fred Martin, Pat Bayer, Virginia Allen, president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively, to plan more get-togethers and class activities, but due to the lack of C.R.'s they have had little chance to plan them.

A. H. S. COMMISSION REVISES "OUT-OF-DATE" CONSTITUTION

Revision and modernization of the Constitution of the Associated Student Body of Alhambra High School was but part of the big job done by the Commission of 1939-40.

Blue-eyed Virginia Ware, who was commissioner general during the 1st semester, was Alhambra's first Moorette to hold the top office in years. Tharon Hodges was head man of the second semester.

Under the leadership of Virginia and Tharon and the advisership of Bruce M. Lawson, Boys Vice-Principal, the Commission not only rewrote the Constitution, but also founded the rooting section at football games, staged a campus clean-up campaign, rewarded the championship football team with traveling jackets, and gave several highly successful dances in El Moro Ballroom.

A big work in itself was the revision of the Constitution, which included the weeding out of cumbersome amendments and the modernization of out-of-date legislation.

Virginia's Commission included Lloyd Heglin, as commissioner of boys, Martha Ann Snowden, commissioner of girls, Betty Mathews, commissioner of literature, Chuck McFate, commissioner of athletics, Eleanor Kauffman, as commissioner of finance, her assistant being Virginia Hagen, and Paul Johnston, as commissioner of forensics.

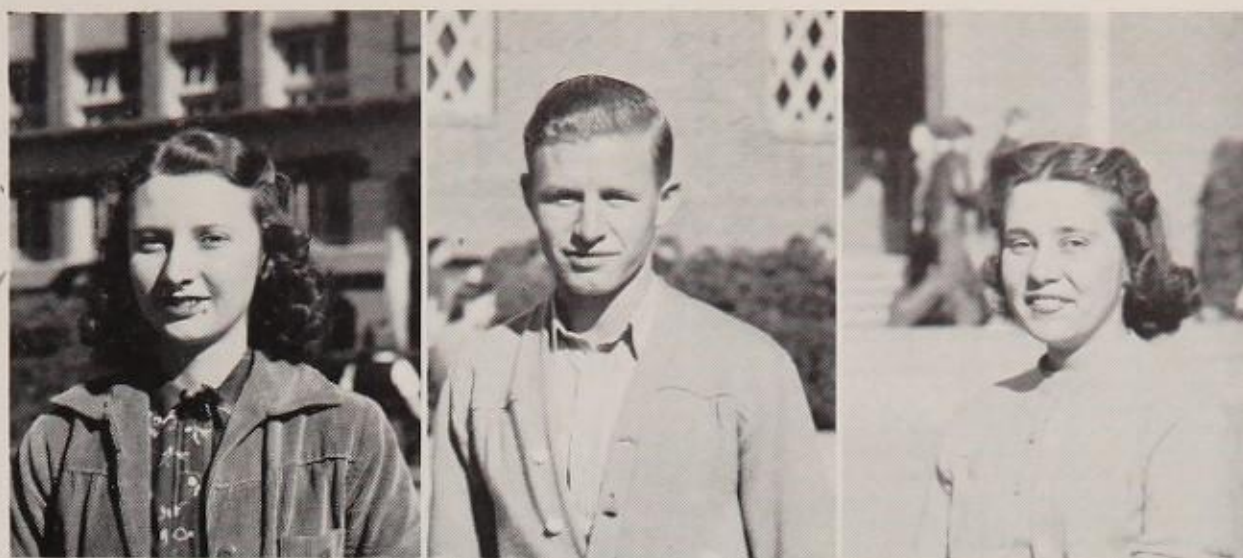

When Tharon succeeded Virginia, June Holland took over the office of commissioner of girls, La Dorna Larson was elected assistant commissioner of literature, and Virginia Hagen stepped up to the office of finance commissioner, leaving her place as assistant to Don Carruthers, while Potter Kerfoot was elected commissioner of forensics.

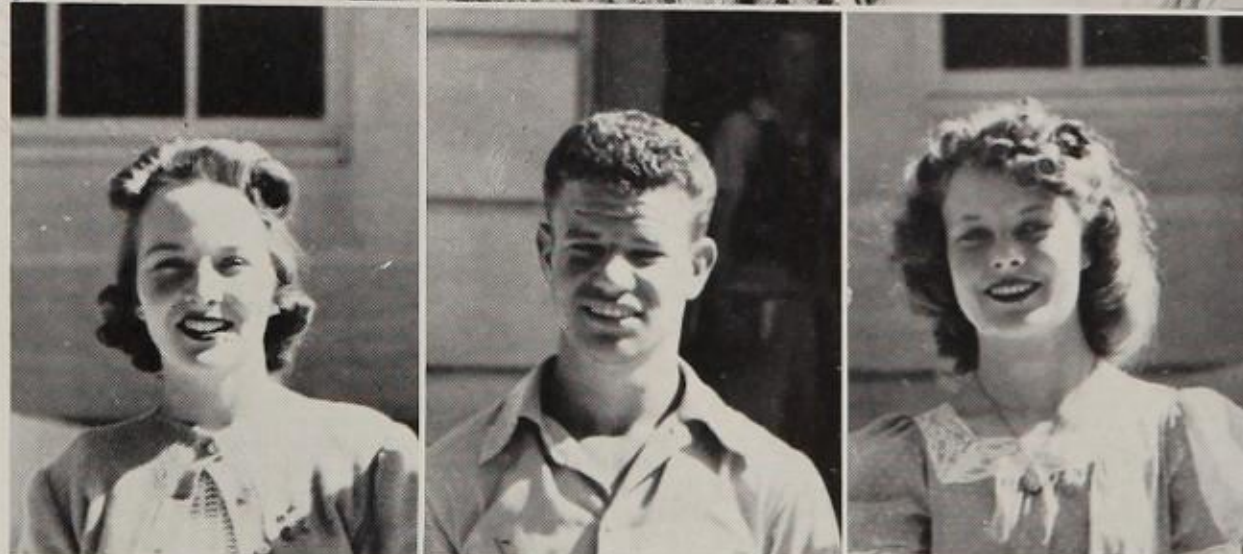

Above, at his desk, is Mr. Bruce M. Lawson, boys' vice-principal, who is adviser of the A.H.S. Student Body Commission. At right are the Commissioner-Generals: Virginia Ware, first semester; and Tharon Hodges, second semester.

Dear Janet,

GIRLS' LEAGUE WELCOMES NEW GIRLS AND FRESHMEN

LEAGUE WELFARE WORK FINANCED BY BENEFITS

"Welcome" said the Girls' League in friendly fashion to the frightened girls of 1939-40, while the rest of the school was busy teasing and scaring the new-comers. And this was a symbol of the spirit of true womanhood as upheld by the League, which stands for honor, simplicity, courtesy, Democracy, and service.

Later in the year, when registration flurry was over, the League staged a gala freshman party which launched the social season that included a dinner for the administration, a party for all Moorettes, and a supper-theater party for the League Board.

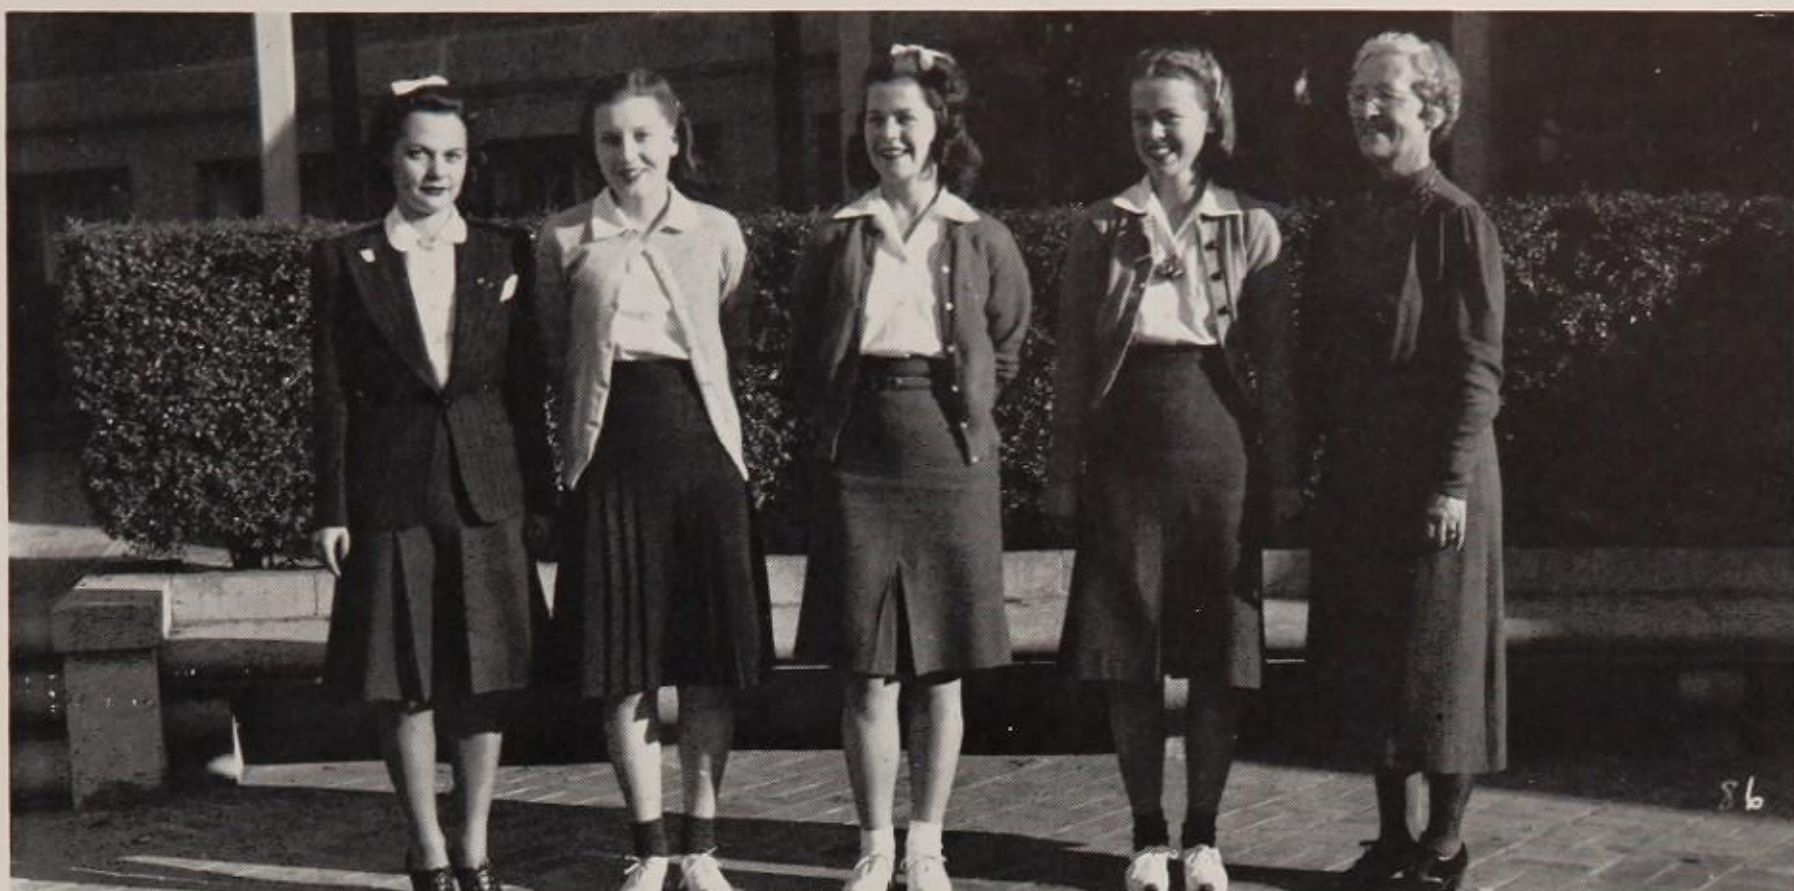

A merry Christmas was given to many unfortunate Alhambra families through the cooperation of the Girls' League with the Boys' Federation. The organization also showed its civic interest through its annual subscription to the Red Cross and the Community Chest.

Funds to finance the League welfare work which also included an office subscription to the American Observer for the convenience of girl students and the decoration of the goal posts during football season, were obtained from the annual benefit show.

League delegates represented Moordom at the California Federation of Girls' Leagues convention in San Bernardino in the fall, and in Whittier in the spring.

HEGLIN LEADS BOYS' FEDERATION THROUGH SUCCESSFUL YEAR

BOYS' FEDERATION STAGES BENEFIT SHOW

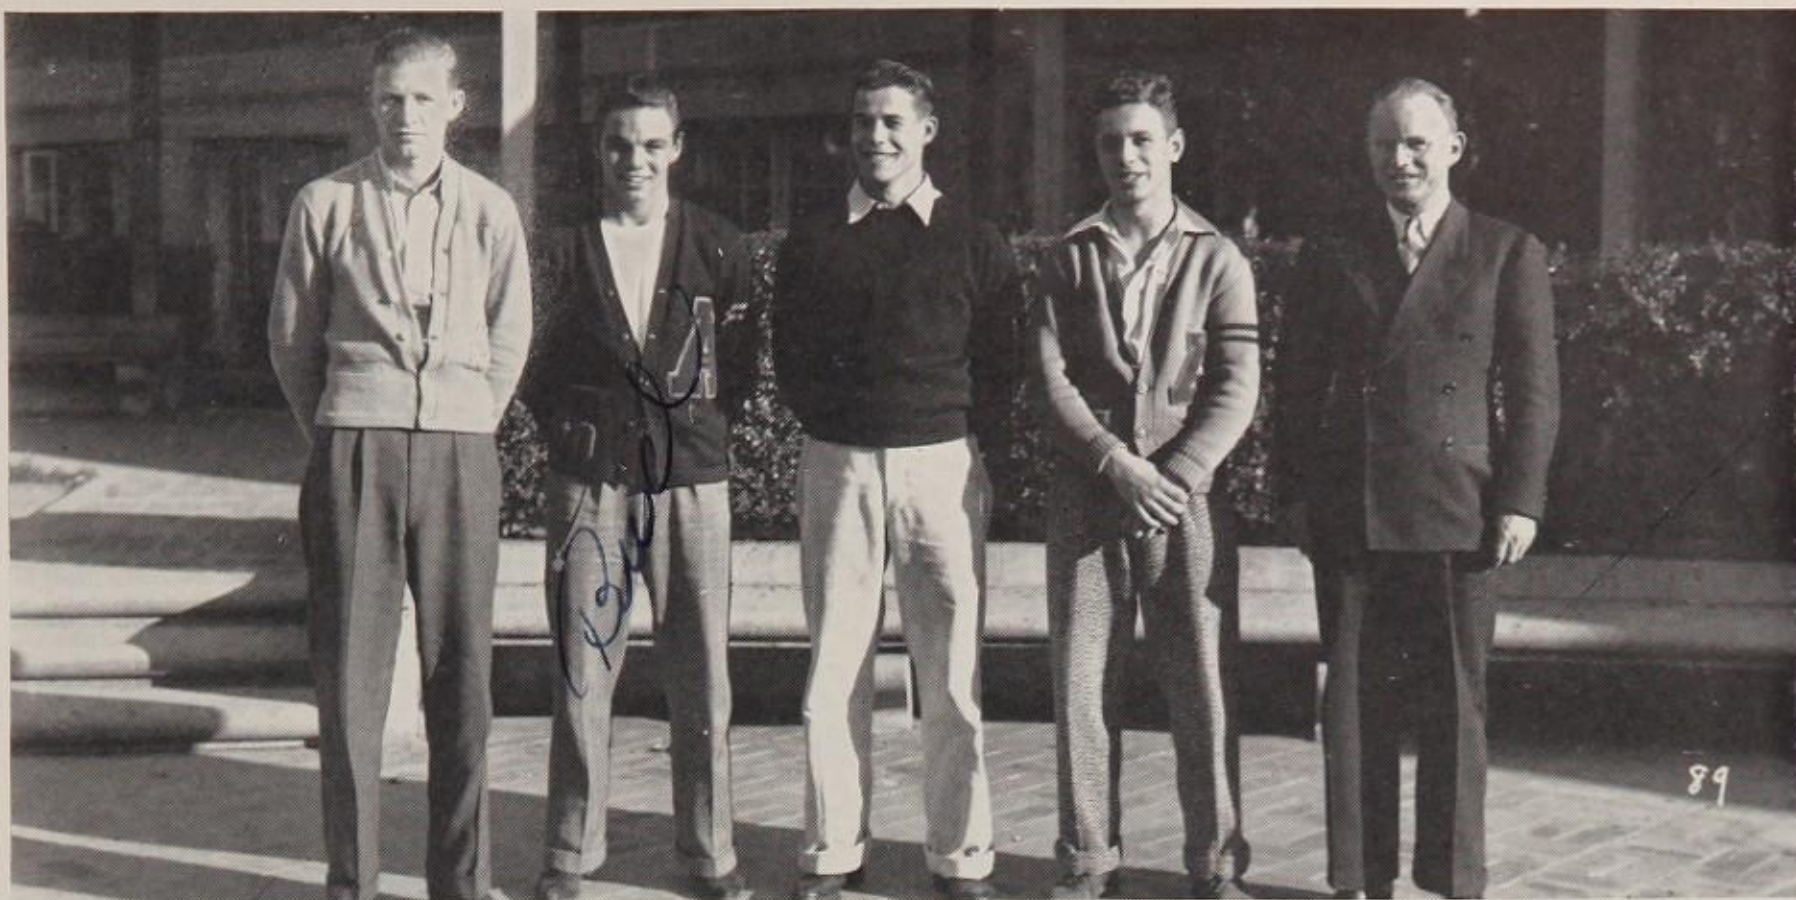

Swinging into action under the leadership of Commissioner of Boys Lloyd Heglin and genial Mr. Lawson, boys' vice-principal, the Boys' Federation of 1939-40 was among the most useful of campus organizations.

Its field of service included not only campus but community activities. At Christmas time it was the Boys' Federation which loaded gaily wrapped boxes of food and clothing and toys, and distributed them among destitute families of San Gabriel Valley. They assumed responsibility for the staging of the benefit show, Gunga Din, in the auditorium last fall. Through the whole-hearted cooperation of the Boys' Federation, ushers and guards were provided for football games, guards were stationed in the overcrowded halls of Moor-don, and boys were obtained to help in the running off of track events in the spring.

Quiet, capable Lloyd Heglin headed a group of Boys' Federation officers who will long be remembered for their service in school activities. Bud Davidson, well-known tennis star, was vice-president during both semesters; Craig Harvey held his position as treasurer for both semesters, while the office of secretary was occupied in the fall by Richard Garver and by John Petrovich in the spring. During the first semester Bob French was School Service Chairman; he was succeeded by Dave Harris. La Verne Hubbard took the post of Personal Service when Tharon Hodges left it to become Commissioner-General; Jack Boatman took up the duties of Public Service at the beginning of the last semester and held that position throughout the next semester.

Mr. Bruce M. Lawson, center, is seen at a meeting with some of the Boys' Federation Officers. They are, left to right: Heglin, Harris, Hubbard, and Petrovich.

MOOR STAFF CHANGES PAPER TO 6-PAGE TABLOID SIZE

West, 1st semester editor
Miss Isabel Pettefer, adviser
Durham, 2nd semester editor

"Buy your Moor now in the new tabloid size with six pages!" said the assembly speaker and the bulletin notices when September 1939 brought students trooping back to school.

Pretty brown-haired Helen West headed the Moor staff of the winter semester as editor-in-chief. She had a comparatively small staff to aid her in publishing the weekly Moor. Scholarly Ray Becker as managing editor, blond, Joan Ash, news editor, the peppy Covington-Campbell team, sports-minded Jim Scott, and busy Dorothea Rawa spent late afternoons and evenings writing copy to be typed by Margaret Simon. On Thursday nights Helen and her right-hand man, Ray Becker, were ever to be found working until the wee hours at the print shop on the Friday edition, and always Miss Pettefer, the popular Moor adviser, was there to direct and advise the youthful staff.

When February and Keppel emigration time rolled around, poetry-loving Bill Durham very capably filled Helen's little shoes as new editor-in-chief. Bob (killer) Copley will long be remembered for his weekly sports section. Usually to be found working or lounging in the newly acquired Moor Office were Larey Casey, lanky managing editor, quiet, hard-working Mary Ogg, news-editor and her pretty assistant Betty Lucas, along with the Wyland-Bowman team who managed to put out a laugh-packed feature page once a week.

Joe Gualano was business manager and care taker of the various Moor mascots.

Not only did the 1939-40 Moor present an accurate account of every campus event plus interesting photographs, but students were highly entertained with the weekly feature page, which was greatly enhanced with entertaining editorials, Jean Campbell's hilarious, if ungrammatical, poetry, and Theron Imlay's and Bill Greenstone's timely cartoons.

Notable among the spring edition of the Moor were the Pan-American number and the paper dedicated to the Student Congress.

All in all, the spirit displayed by the members of the Moor staff for 1939-40 truly measured up to the spirit of accurate, timely, interesting journalism as glorified by the Alhambran for this year.

GREAT MOOR ELEVEN CAPTURES FIRST C. I. F. TITLE IN TEN YEARS

Assistant Coach Bob Purcell and Head Coach George Hobbs concentrate on their 1939 Alhambra "Wonder Team," as Johnny Petrovich (top) impresses them with his power on a touchdown play.

PETROVICH PACES MOOR PIGSKINNERS TO TEN VICTORIES

Bowling over ten opponents in quite convincing fashion, Alhambra High's 1939 varsity waltzed to the C. I. F. Southern California title to complete the most spectacular season in A. H. S. history.

In the first game, Alhambra romped to a 38-0 victory over South Pasadena. El Monte fell by a 38-13 score, and San Diego Hoover was easily trounced, 19-12. John Petrovich led the Moor attack in all of these first three contests. However, Chuck McFate, Elmer Holman and Tharen Hodges played sterling football.

To start off the Foothill League, Glendale's Dynamiters bowed to the Blue and Gold, 32-7. Petrovich rambled to four touchdowns in this contest, while the whole Alhambra team functioned smoothly. Hoover came next and the Arabs turned them away, 31-13. Petrovich scored but one touchdown in this game; however, he passed to three others. Ward Friedman and Richie Garver rambled to a pair of tallies to lead the Morrocan.

The Moors took a breather in Montebello for their next contest, and whitewashed the Oilers, 45-12. Whittier came next, and Alhambra clinched the Foothill League title by trimming the Cardinals, 34-0. Petrovich tallied four touchdowns.

The varsity closed its league season with a 45-19 victory over Wilson. Chuck Petre, fullback, was the star of this game, scoring twice.

Opening the C. I. F. playoffs, Alhambra belted out a 52-6 win over Chaffey, Citrus Belt League Champions. Petrovich and Garver scored three touchdowns apiece and Friedman scored two to round out the scoring.

The C. I. F. championship game came next and Petrovich & Co. went to work in great fashion. Johnny rambled to three touchdowns before a crowd of 35,000 to pace the Moors' 26-18 victory over Santa Barbara in the L. A. Coliseum.

MOOR BEE FOOTBALLERS TRIM FOUR OUT OF TEN '39 FOES

COACH JOHN SEIXAS

HOOVER ONLY LEAGUE FOE TO SUCCUMB

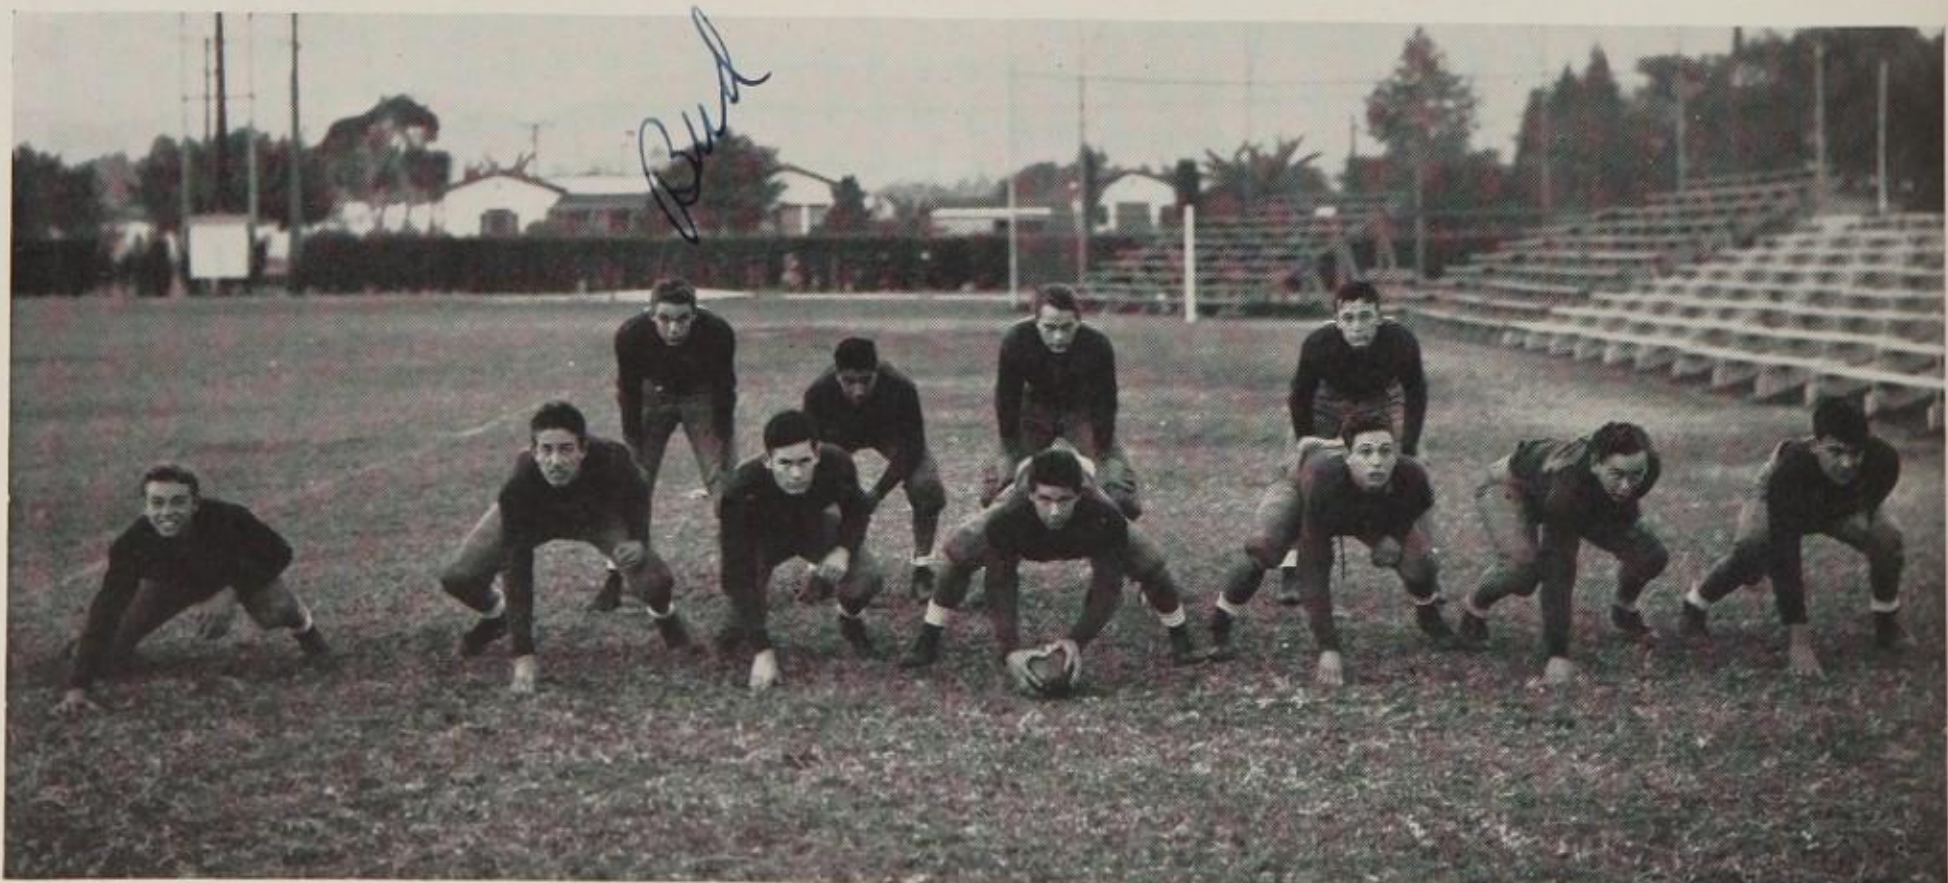

Although they were able to win only one league game and four out of ten for the whole season, Alhambra's class B football team had a much better season than their record would indicate.

Besides their regular league games, the local middle-weights played six practice games, in which they had much better luck. Highlight of the season for the Bees was their 6-0 victory over Glendale Hoover.

The Bees had a fairly strong line, but the backfield could not meet the same specifications. Jimmy Stevens and Harry Anderson, ends, Sid Laurence, tackle, Craig Harvey and Bob Gilman, guards, and Cliff Fauchier, center, gave the locals that well known "oomph" on the forward wall. Tom Putman and John Becnel were the big guns of the backfield.

CEE FOOTBALL RETURNS LOCALLY AFTER LONG ABSENCE

LOCAL MIDGETS DROP SEVEN STRAIGHT GAMES

For the first time in many years, Alhambra High sported a class Cee football team, and though the midgets failed to win a single game, their season can be called a success because it trained many Varsity and Bee team stars of tomorrow.

The locals went through their Foothill League season without scoring a point, but they proved their defensive prowess by not allowing more than two touchdowns in a single game to be tallied against them. Highlight of the season was the Covina practice tile, where they scored the only points of the season, but bowed in defeat, 26-13.

Stars of this year's midget team were a pair of backfield men, Kevin Wheeler, quarterback, and Capt. Gene Emory, fullback.

LOCAL CAGERS DEFEAT ALL LEAGUE QUINTETS ONCE

Coming through the evenly-matched Foothill campaign with four wins and an equal number of defeats, Alhambra High's Varsity basketball team was a contender for the title right up to the final game of the 1939-1940 schedule.

Every team in the league felt the Moor axe, while the local cagers bowed to every Foothill quintet. During the first semester, five league games were played, and the Moors were able to take three of these. Glendale edged the locals, 24-22, in the first game, but the Moors stayed in the race by pasting Hoover, 22-19. Whittier came out on the long end of a 34-31 score in the next game, but the Arabs evened the count by trimming Wilson 30-28. The second round started, and the Moors avenged an opening round game by beating Glendale, 33-21.

Then came graduation, and the Moors lost eight men. They split the next two, and then were edged out of their title claim by Wilson, 31-29.

MOOR BEE AND CEE BASKETBALL MEN WIN FOUR, LOSE FOUR

Like their bigger varsity brothers, Alhambra's Bee and Cee casaba men both came through the season with a record of winning four and losing four.

The Cees took every team in the league into camp and in turn lost to every one, while the Bees split with Whittier and Hoover, beat Wilson twice and lost to Glendale twice.

The best game played by the Bees was on the Whittier floor, where, behind the 21 points tallied by forward Elmer McKinnon, they shellacked the league champs-to-be, 33-23.

CAPTAIN BARTON WINS POST-ADVOCATE TROPHY

Although Alhambra's varsity track team did not have too much team strength during the 1939-1940 season, several members came up with some very creditable marks.

Captain Bob Barton's brilliant 10.2 over the century helped win him the Post-Advocate trophy, while broad jumper Roy Elder was consistently over 21 feet, Harold Bosacki high jumped regularly around the six-foot mark, Pete Cerda and Bob Hansen continually toyed with 45 feet in the shot put, Charley Whalen stepped off the 440 in 52 seconds, and Dan Ramirez ran several good miles around five minutes flat to challenge Barton's mark.

At the time of this writing, the local cindermen had four meets, winning only one. Mark Keppel was the lone squad to fall before the Moor spikes, losing 88-25 in a night meet.

Wilson, Whittier, and Glendale all hold lopsided wins over the Blue and Gold. In a practice meet early in the season, Long Beach Poly routed the game Morroccans 100 $\frac{1}{2}$ -21 $\frac{1}{2}$.

BEE AND CEE TRACK TEAMS ACHIEVE NOMINAL SUCCESS

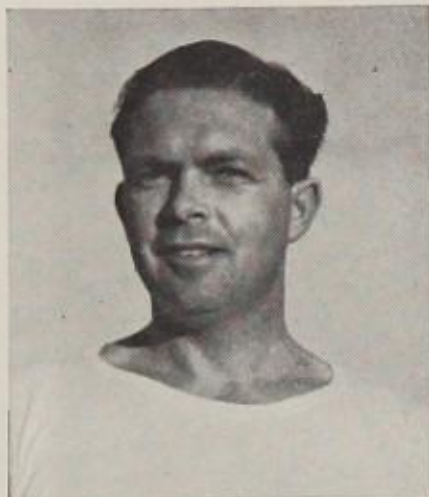

BOB AND JIM NEBO AMONG LEAGUE'S FINEST

The Alhambra's Bee and Cee track teams didn't have too much team success, but several of their members achieved some acceptable feats.

Cee sprinters Bob and Jim Nebo were among the League's finest, and when these two youngsters combined with another pair of Moor midget dashmen, the result was a well-run relay race.

Ted Balme, 660 man, Bill Wheeler, sprinter, and Don Schofield, pole vaulter, were the other stars of this year's Cee team.

Welsh and Kaufman, sprinters, Anderson and Lynch, 660 men, Leyrer, Durham, and Nixon, 1320 men, Hasslinger and Harvey, low hurdlers, Todd, high hurdler, Bastien, Reed, and Stevens, high jumpers, Duvas and Kearney, pole vaulters, Amberg and Putman, shot putters, and Putman and Bastien, broad jumpers, led this year's Bee team.

TROY FROSH, P. J. C. AMONG MOOR PRACTICE VICTIMS

Romping over ten straight practice foes, Alhambra's baseballers sort of cooled off by the time the Foothill League schedule got under way, and, at the time of this writing, had lost three and won three.

A 6-6 tie with Pasadena J. C. and a 7-3 win over the U. S. C. frosh gave the local nine confidence of a good season, and they started off like a million dollars by blasting Glendale, 11-3, in the loop opener. However, in their next conference game on the Whittier diamond, the locals fell, despite sixteen strikeouts by hurler "Lefty" Johnston, by a score of 4-3.

Alhambra's new rivals from Mark Keppel were no match for the Moors and bowed, 15-4. In their next appearance the locals got a bad case of the jitters and blew a 17-7 game to Long Beach Woodrow Wilson. Still recuperating from the Wilson rout, the locals dropped a close extra-inning contest 2-0 to Glendale Hoover. The Moors made a brief comeback by opening the League second round with a 6-2 win over Glendale.

MOOR JAYVEE NINE DEVELOPS VARSITY STARS FOR FUTURE

BILL HESS
COACHES TEAM

Although their Foothill League schedule had not yet started at the time of this writing, it was anticipated that the junior varsity baseball season would prove successful.

The schedule does not start until after the varsity league has run out, giving the non-letter winners a chance to earn a jayvee letter. Coached by Coach Bill Hess, the jayvees exist primarily to bolster the varsity team in years to come.

If early season workouts indicate anything at all, the local jayvees should develop into quite a ball club. Several boys look promising.

The jayvees play only one round of competition in the Foothill League rather than the two rounds played by varsity.

NUMEROUS ARABS NAB COVETED NET AWARDS

Another tennis title came to the halls of Alhambra this year, the fourth straight. Paced by Art Graybill and Bud Davidson, one of the finest doubles combinations in Southland prep circles, the local stringmen had no trouble at all in trimming every outfit in the Foothill League.

Graybill and Davidson blasted their way through everything in the league to go through the season unbeaten. Art McDonald, first singles flash, along with Frank Manaut and Jim Van Anda made up a group of the finest singles men also.

The locals rolled up a practice record of eleven straight wins and then scored ten straight loop wins to compile a record as good as any other prep squad in Southern California.

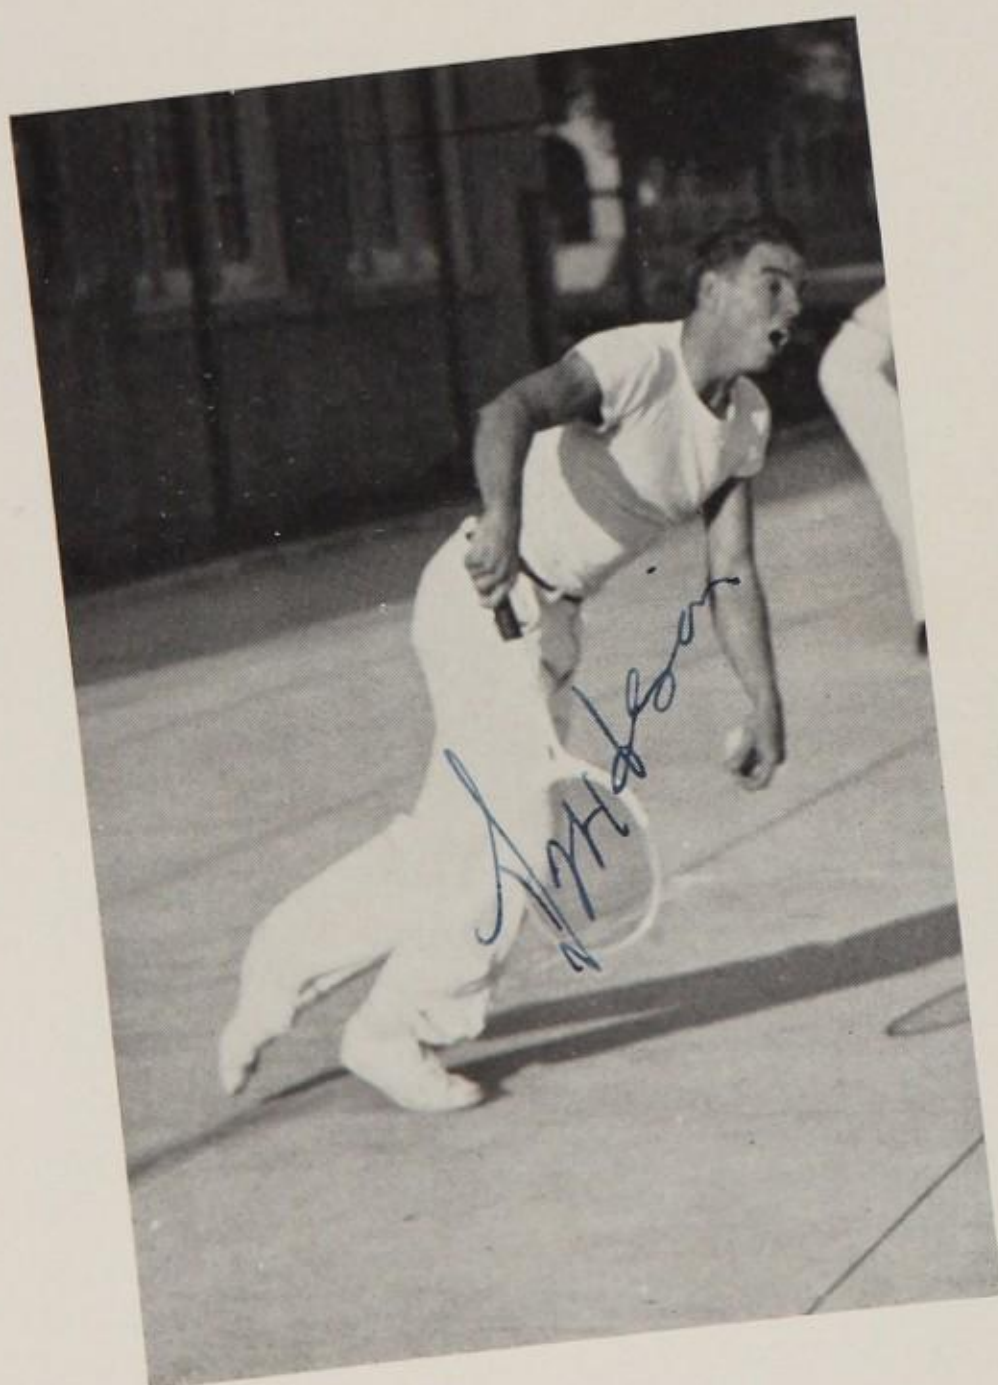

The other boys who made up this year's championship squad were: fourth singles, Tom Stanton, fifth singles, John Washburn; second doubles, George Wyche and John Stanton. This year's team was coached by Leland Mills who replaced "Pop" Horne, one of the finest coaches in the game. Mills was gifted with a fine team, but he did a masterful job of coaching. Coach Horne trekked south to Mark Keppel and did wonders with the Aztec netters.

LOCAL LEAGUE SEASON IN LATE DEBUT

Like jayvee baseball, the jayvee netters' Foothill League season did not start until the varsity schedule had ceased, so at the time of this writing, no loop matches had been played.

The Jayvee racketmen played only one round of Foothill League competition due to the late schedule. Leland Mills, varsity mentor, handled the jayvees and did a fine job of it, considering that he was using practically all freshmen and sophomores.

CIRCUS PLAY DAY, FEATURED BY G. A. A. GIRLS OF FIVE HIGH SCHOOLS

At a "circus" play-day held under the Moor big top, the interest of girls from Whittier, Glendale Hoover, and Burbank high schools was captured on December 7.

Play-day wasn't the only successful G. A. A. activity. There was a Hallowe'en party, an Easter egg hunt, and a dinner to introduce new girls to sport activities. Many Moorettes also traveled to the Monrovia play-day, and some representatives attended the G. A. F. Conference at Whittier High.

The Algia-Minor A schedule was eventful, also. They had a doughnut sale, an Algia-Varsity Club Dance, a fashion show, a mid-year banquet at the Maefair Tea Room, and an Algia Formal Spring Banquet at the Old Orchard Tea Room.

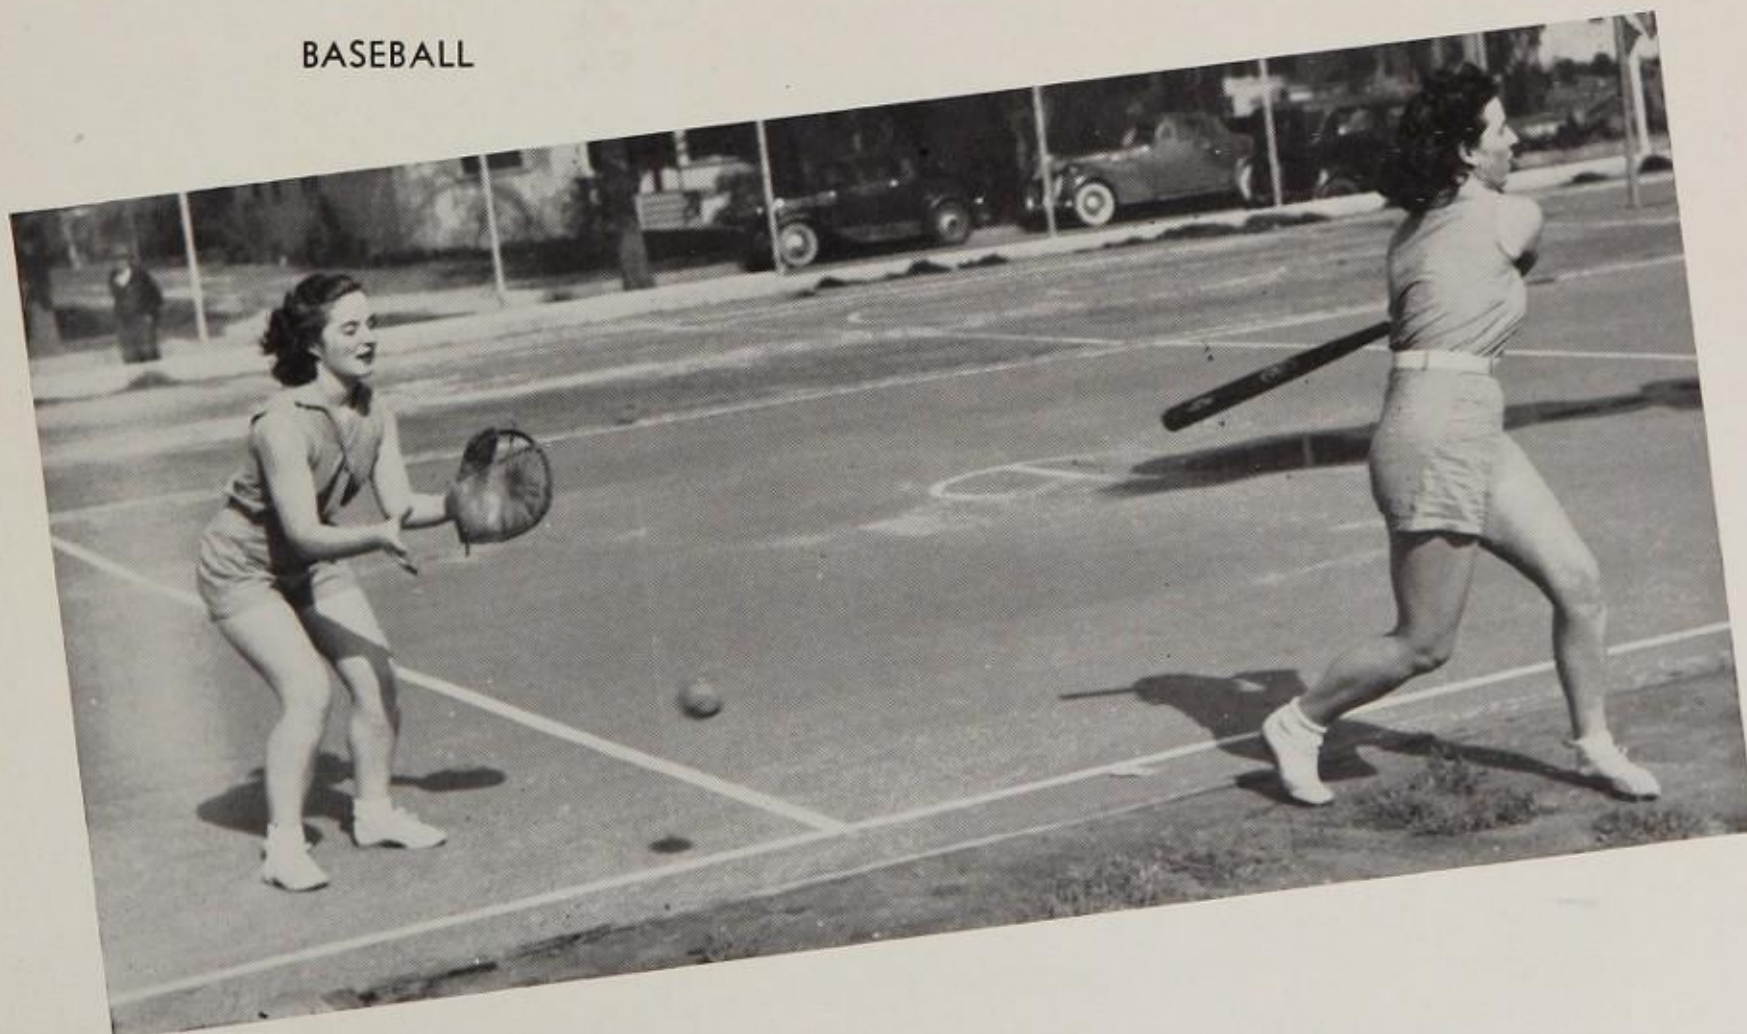

Besides dinners, play-days, etc., the girls played many games. The season began with volleyball, and the freshmen toppled their upper-classmen and won the volleyball championships. The sophomores won the basketball title, and the combined junior-senior team captured the speedball play-offs. Baseball completed the sport year. Hockey is usually played; but this year, partly because of the field, there was no hockey.

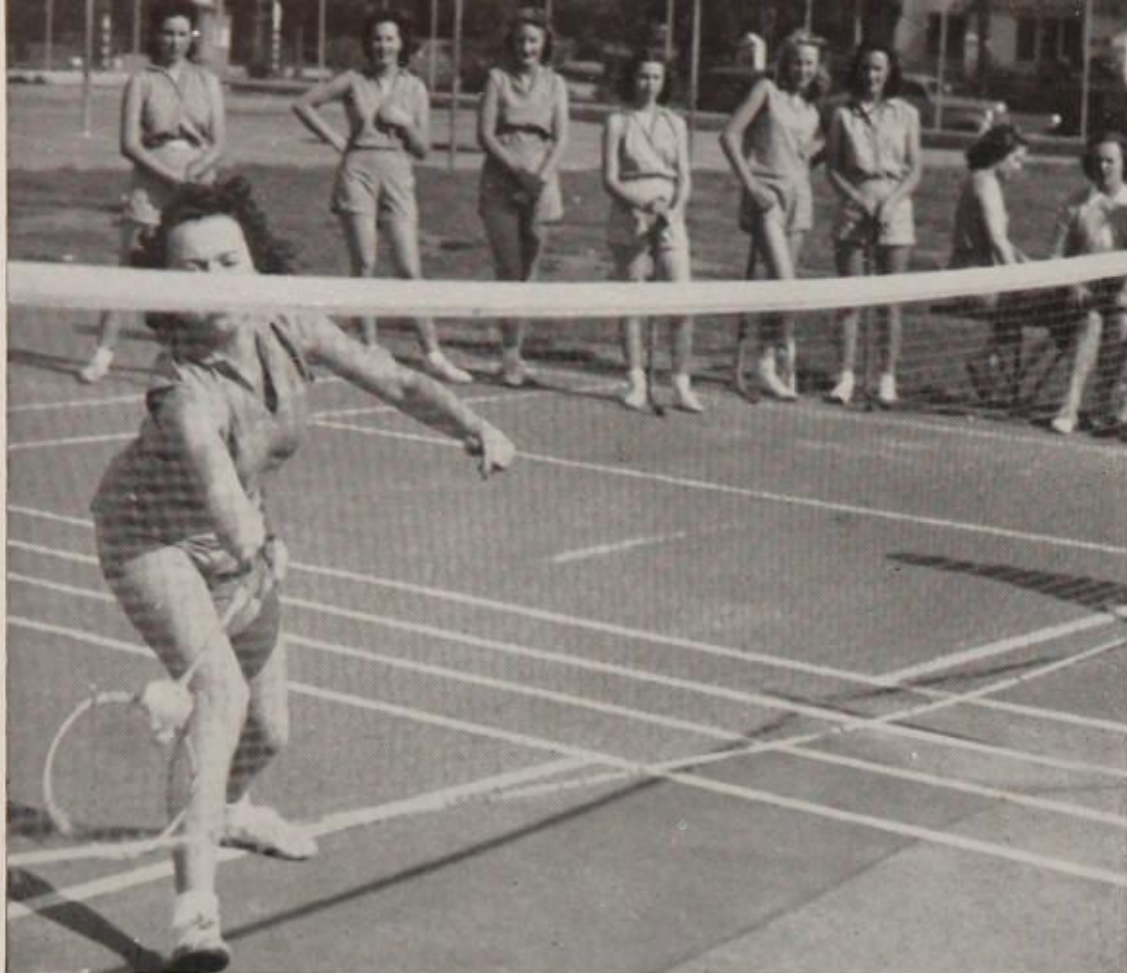

Archery and tennis are played all year, and archery is offered to boys. There are singles and doubles tournaments for tennis players. Natural dancing is also offered. The minor sports include badminton, ping-pong, paddle tennis, and deck tennis.

From the wide variety, every girl is able to find at least one sport to enjoy.

FIRST ALHAMBRA STUDENT CONGRESS FEATURES A. H. S. FORENSIC YEAR

Under the leadership of their new but experienced debate coach, J. Edmund Mayer, the Moor debaters introduced a new idea in Southern California debate circles this year when they staged a Student Congress at Alhambra, modeled exactly on the National Congress at Washington, D. C., with Senators and Representatives attending from high schools all over Southern California. It was held in the A. H. S. auditorium on April 19 and 20.

An especially successful forensic season characterized victorious Moordom of 1939-1940 in oratory and extemporaneous speaking as well as in debate.

In the first round Paul Johnston and Potter Kerfoot, veteran debaters, gave Manual Arts a 3-0 licking on the national high school question, "Resolved: That the federal government should own and operate the railroads."

In the next round, all member schools of the Southern California Debate League had dual debates, which resulted in a double victory in Alhambra. Harold Galloway, Dwight Copely, Elaine Blankenship and Jacqueline Rorabeck met Citrus. Double defeat met the probably over-confident Moors at the hands of Dorsey in the third round. Paul Johnston, Potter Kerfoot, Jacqueline Rorabeck, and Dwight Copely were the Moor Participants in a double tilt.

FESTIVAL COMBINES LOCAL WITH INTERNATIONAL PURPOSE

Under the general direction of Miss Georgia E. Shropshire, the Music Department of Alhambra City High School presented the Spring Music Festival, "On the Wings of Song," in the school auditorium, Friday, May 17, 1940.

The idea of the festival was first to show the parents of the community the work carried on by this department, and secondly, to congratulate the people of the past in all lands who have contributed so much to life, to culture, to beauty, to artistry; and to those in every land who are today striving, under such terrific odds, to carry on those fundamental ideals.

The festival featured the blended voices of the Girls' Senior Glee Club, directed by Augusta Clements, and the Boys' Senior Glee Club, under the leadership of Miss Phyllis Butler.

HIGHLIGHTS

Some of the highlights of the night's performances were: continuity, prepared and presented by Georgia E. Shropshire, head of the Music Department; the theme song, "On Wings of Song," by Mendelssohn; soprano soloist, Jean Walburn; first violin, Clarence Clever; second violin, Marilyn Marr; viola, Betty Aukerman; cello, Winifred L. Brown; piano, La Vina Roloson. A bass solo by Melvin Mayfield was received with much approval, and with the same reception were Alice Wellman's soprano solo and Edwin Wilferth's trumpet solo; a soprano solo by Frances D. Miller, and surprising even the cast, a beautiful dance featuring Betty Rose Plane and Robert Ramiriz with Josephine Chapman at the piano.

MUSIC DELUXE

Thrilling the audiences with such music as excerpts from the opera Faust, and Tales from the Vienna Woods, by Johann Strauss, was the A.H.S. senior orchestra, under the masterful baton of Lorion Stillion, director of the orchestra.

Outstanding performances were contributed by Leita Gruwell, singing "In My Garden," a Marimba Solo by Howard Burbank, and "Finlandia," played by the senior orchestra.

For this reason, the festival will be carried out in the names of different countries, such as Arabia, Ireland, Scotland, Hungary, Italy, Finland, Mexico, America.

*Lots of luck & happiness in the future Dorothy Merrill
P.S. I hope you have a swell vacation*

Below is the Senior Orchestra which played an important part in the Music Festival of May 17. Lorion Stillion is the conductor.

FUTURE THEATRICAL WORKERS PERFORM, WHILE TRAINING

Like the maps of Europe, the faces of the characters in both senior plays, the Shakespeare Festival and many other drama activities, took on a decidedly different look after the very efficient work of the make-up crew. The wardrobe department finished the future actors and actresses with enough costumes to play any part they chose.

But what is a play without a stage? And that's where the stage crew takes a bow. Such tricky scenery as was used in the winter senior play called for carefully planned work, and the stage crew came through with flying colors.

But what is a play without players? And that is where the Radio Speech comes in, along with many other organizations of this nature. Aiming to please at any price, the Radio Speech has gone before audiences and given almost professional performances.

Decision that the character "Joe, Ace Reporter," would be the theme of the 1940 Alhambra was the first step in the making of the year book. After choosing the theme came the actual work: making lay-outs, taking pictures, getting copy ready, editing the book, proof reading and worrying after the book was "put to bed." But according to Betty Mathews, editor-in-chief of the Annual, "Every member of the staff, like myself, enjoyed the work and each of us experienced many little things that will help us in later years."

The art staff under the direction of Mrs. Ruth G. Boone, the capital art adviser, and headed by Pearl Haffling and Bob Dahlquist, were responsible for the authentic newspaper drawings. The newspaperman "Joe," was drawn by Dick Edgington and Kenneth Collins. Each layout was compiled by either Pearl or Bob, and the cover was designed by Bob Dahlquist.

"More pictures and unique ones" was the aim of the staff. Montages for the first time at Alhambra were seen in this year's Annual. LaDorna Larson, photography editor, with her assistants, June Pauling, first semester and Doris Mies, second semester, did an excellent job of "getting the photos" assigned to them.

Under the direction and guidance of Mr. Elmore Shipman, Betty Mathews, editor and Vern Mills, assistant editor, arranged the book and with the assistance of the literary staff compiled the copy.

The bigger and better snaps were arranged by Georgianne Reid and the ever-faithful typists were Margaret Phelos and Barbara Browning.

TWO HALF-HOLIDAYS REWARD C. S. F.

ACHIEVEMENTS FURTHERED BY POTTER KERFOOT

Santa Anita Park, with its towering eucalypti and many sports facilities, was the site of the Scholarship fall half-holiday picnic on November 16. For their spring observances of this biennial C. S. F. half-holiday the more industrious branch of the student-body chose an afternoon at the beach on Tuesday, May 21, and left their less studious classmates sweltering in Moordom.

"Scholarship for service" is the motto by which the Alhambra Chapter of the California Scholarship Federation gauged its activities for 1939-40. Potter Kerfoot, as president of the chapter, was the chief executive for the year, during which the organization was active in furthering its purpose of affording recognition for outstanding scholastic achievement and uniting that ability with high scholastic accomplishments for school service.

Potter Kerfoot was assisted in the organization by Kathryn Gibbs, vice-president, Francis Glaze, secretary, and Crystal Gaub and Anna Marie Kellam, treasurers for first and second semesters, respectively. Miss Kathleen Strickland was adviser of the Society.

Special recognition was given to graduating seniors who were members of the Scholarship Federation for six or more semesters. The students to receive this honor were Helen West, Virginia Ware, James Forrest, Marie Besie, Bonnie Hurd, Audrey Lee Brown, Marjorie Fiddament and Raymond Becker.

In April, Kathryn Gibbs, Margaret Cochrane, Ann Marie Kellam, Howard Dembecer and Miss Strickland journeyed to the Regional Convention in Pomona, which had "National Defense" as its theme. The convention featured panel discussions as well as entertainment.

The local chapter had a membership of more than ninety during 1939-40.

STUDENT-WRITERS W

MIRAGE

I saw him gaze at cloud-tipped desert buttes
 And listen for the sound of distant flutes
 And shade his weary eyes with a lifted hand.
 I saw him scan the mountains and the sand;
 Behind him stretched a deep imprinted track;
 The sun was a burning fury on his back,
 The sand was flowing from his feet in rivulets;
 The lacings of his boots made tiny nets
 To catch the wind-strewn bits of silver dust.
 He hurried over the shifting dunes where the rust
 Of broken wagon wheels eluded him.
 He plodded onward toward the sandy rim
 Of a lake whose cooling waters shone,
 But reaching them, he thirsted there alone.

Kay Mecham, Feb., 1940

NIGHT FLYER

He tunnels through the deep ebony of night;
 Over a darkened wilderness he guides
 His giant eagle toward a distant light.
 On still and shimmering wings he smoothly glides
 Above a sleeping world; he doesn't dare
 To trace the silver etching of the moon
 Upon the ragged mountain peak; with care
 He lifts his bird above the heights, and soon
 A burning streak across the black will warn
 Of pending dawn; he rides into the dim
 And paling mists and leaves them grayed and torn;
 He disappears beyond the morning's rim.

BRAINS

No one could question the intelligence of Senor Lopez. Who else could make thousands selling ammunition to both sides in the war that was devastating Spain? His latest shipment of ammunition, filled with condemned powder, would net him great profits. When his bank deposits were large enough, he would retire to a spacious villa and live in contentment. There was no back and waited for the explosion. In his house, two miles from the airport, Senor Lopez stood gloating smugly. Every shell's explosion meant more money in his pocket. Suddenly a shrill whine cut the air close by. The wail of the projectile grew louder and nearer. Terrified, he started to run. Then a blinding crash, as the shell hit the house. A rain of debris covered Lopez' torn, lifeless body. The defective shell had missed its tar-

Not to be outdone by ball champions, Alhambra representatives scored in this year also.

At the top of this page printed five poems written by Alhambra High School students were selected for the 1940-41 anthology of California High School Poetry. The National Poetry Association, which publishes the Anthology and judged the matter, wrote:

"We congratulate you for your general excellence in poetry. It is unusual for a percentage of such merit from one school. Alhambra's five poems are 'Blackout,' 'From the Age,' and 'Plow'."

ANTHOLOGY HONORS

FROM VIOLINS

I hear the haunting strains of violins,
Like winds that sing through windows open wide
Before the thunder or the rain begins
To drown the secrets murmured by the tide.
The drifting music brings me fields of wheat
Moving like water when the wind is low,
And songs of birds that sing so clear and sweet
That forgotten dreams again begin to flow,
I sit in a garden filled with humming bees
Swarming around my flowers near the wall
And drinking from blossoms on the almond trees;
Then quietly the night begins to fall.

Georgeanne Reid, B-12

PLOW HORSES

At work upon his farm he must have seen,
While the stoney earth was curving from his plow,
The pathway made by the plunging India Queen,
With the brine spray leaping from her bow.
The furrows that he made were straight and deep,
But he saw the swelling of the mountain waves;
And he heard the horses of old Neptune sweep
The reefs and saw them plunging from the dark caves.
He stopped a while and was about to yield
To the sound of water, where a trim ship goes
Bounding to sea, but he never left the field
For he felt the touch of a horse's velvet nose.

Norman Boxley, A-11.

BLACKOUT

In Kensington the trees lift bare
And twisted branches to a sky
Grown dull by winter rains and split
By sirens' weird maniacal cry.

White curbs now mark the hidden streets,
And lined in grim foreboding mass
Tall barricades of sand bags rise
Against the web-taped window glass.

These buildings once were Argus-eyed
But sudden death comes with a light,
And so their hollow sockets stare
Into an anguished hell of night.

POST-ADVOCATE PRINTS STUDENT'S LITERARY PAGES

Continuing its co-operation of the past few years, the Alhambra Post-Advocate again allowed the students of Alhambra High School's English classes to publish a complete page of original prose and poetry each semester of the school year 1939-1940.

Under the direction of a faculty committee headed by Miss Margaret J. E. Brown, these pages were planned entirely by a student Post-Advocate literary page staff that included at least one representative from each class.

BY CLASSES

Classes were represented on the Post-Advocate literary staff by the following students: A-12, Shirley Witz, Ray Becker, and Frances
Glaze; B-12, James Stevens, Wesley Byrd, Bill Durham; A-11, Jack
Katz; B-11, Ruth Bauer; A-10,
Aileen Baughman; B-10, Helen
Lowry, A-9, Patricia Dasken; B-9,
Lola Cook.

LITERARY STAFF AT WORK

Standing, Jack Katz; sitting, Patricia Danskin, Eileen Baughman, Lola Cook, Bill Durham, James Stevens, Helen Lowry, Frances Glaze. Not in picture, Ruth Bauer, Wesley Byrd. Ray Becker and Shirley Witz were first semester members who graduated in February.
This staff prepared and edited the material printed twice during the year on the Post-Advocate literary page. Chairman of the faculty this group was Miss Margaret J. E. Brown, assisted by
rs. Louise G. Tennyson, Manila Seaver, Janice Gibson, and Ralph V. Cutlip.

SEVEN A. H. S. BEAUTIES VIE FOR ANNUAL REGAL HONOR

JEANNE OLIVERA REIGNS AS STORY BOOK QUEEN

QUEEN JEANNE

Jeanne Olivera, with a large majority of votes, was elected by the student-body as Queen of the Story Book Parade on Wednesday, April 24.

The Queen rode on a float designed by the commission and her four attendants walked beside her. Jeanne wore a green dress and her attendants wore pastel colors. The theme of the float was colors of the rainbow.

The attendants were: Marv Jane Daily, Jeanne Walburn, Beverly Gorril and Doris Gorham.

A Coronation Ball was given in their honor on Friday, April 26, in El Moro Ballroom. Mr. Werre with the assistance of Commissioner-General Hodges crowned the queen.

Above are the candidates who were nominated for the honor of Queen of the Story Book Parade

TARRZY - WARRZY

By Rochester (Yahoooty) Burros

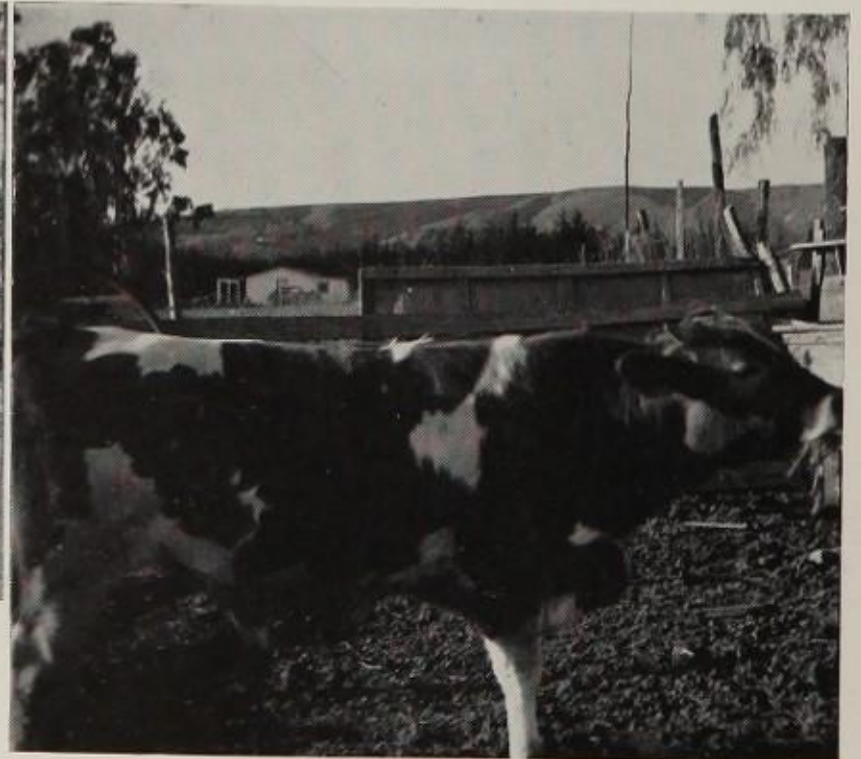

1. Deep in the entangled jungle of Xioox, just two degrees, five seconds south of the border, we find the fearless and shoeless keeper of the wild jeepers . . . Tarrzy-Warrzy. As we find Tarrzy, he has just sighted the postman bringing him his third copy of "The National Detective Association Magazine."

2. Upon receiving his "favorite of the month," Tarrzy plucks himself a raw turnip (home-grown, too—uses A.B.C. seeds for better results) and begins to read, only to be disturbed by a piercing plea for help, intermingled with the pounding of jungle drums beating out "I've Got My Eyes On You."

5. Are you bothered with aches and pains? If so, please try our simple remedy of merely riding a burro up and down on your front lawn, every day at high noon. This can best be accomplished by first mounting the beast by throwing both feet over at once while holding in either hand a ripe olive, commanding the animal to move and then counting to 1000 in roman numerals while riding.

6. But what have we here? . . . Yahoooty? . . . No, of course not! It's a huge jungle beast who is closely watching Tarrzy who has also noticed the beast. Warrzy knows there is going to be trouble; he carefully draws his gun, then slips his last row of caps into it, aims, fires. The huge beast stops dead in its tracks, falls over on its side, mutters a few prayers and dies. (Any similarity between this character and Lucinda is purely coincidental).

Robert Brace

3. For fate has been unkind to the heroine of our story, Jane, that beautiful, creamy-skinned maiden who is on the verge of receiving a super, super hot-foot. But hope is not lost, for Tarrzy-Warrzy, the Mighty, has heard her cry for help, or water, which would seem the more sensible thing to bring at this time.

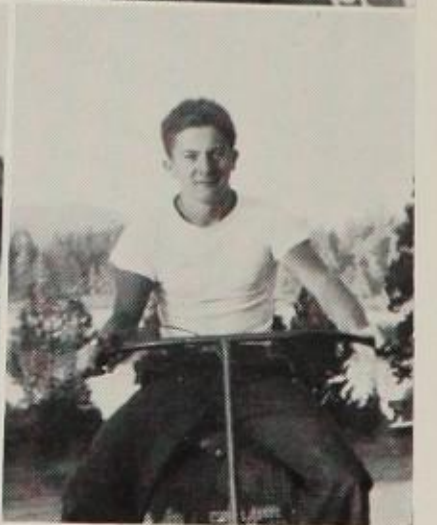

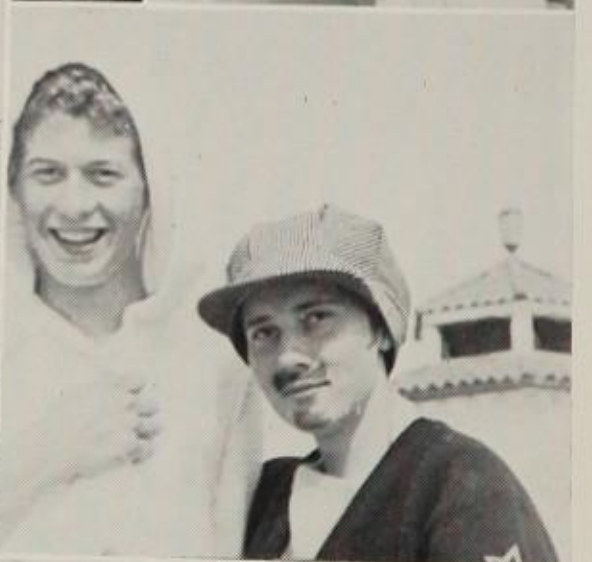

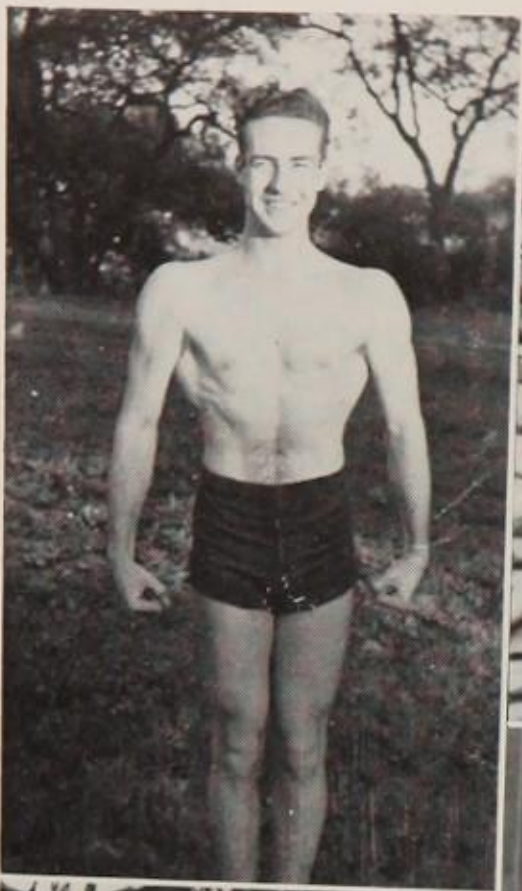

4. Realizing the task before him is a great one, Tarrzy dashes off a quick lunch (to give him energy) consisting of a large portion of Virginia baked ham, sugared yams, a slice of baked pineapple with cottage cheese spilled artistically on top, a large helping of golden bantam corn, to be topped off with a dish of jello, the kind that comes in six different flavors. But now to the thrilling rescue!

7. Tarrzy-Warrzy continues on his way to the rescue but due to the terrific heat, his other corpuscle rushes madly up to his head, knocking him senseless. When he awakes, he is being borne away by his future wife, Jane.

8. Now Tarrzy is married, and has a little son, making him a life member of the Casey-Scanlon Why Do They Always Give Us Ties On Father's Day Society. And one of his greatest joys, is that at least HIS son won't have to attend Mark Keppel.

"Of course," replies Ward Friedman, "a cool refreshing 'Coke' after school at McKay's."

"Yes, and not a bad idea at that," agrees Johnny Petrovich. "It must be the friendly atmosphere, as well as the food," is Mark Teeter's contribution.

"And who can make a coke like Don or Mac?" asks Cornelia Lott.

"No one!" answers Don Akers.

"Right!" says Louise Biswell.

"Have you ever seen such a bargain as this pair of wedgies at only $6.95 a pair?" asks Tilly, popular red head of Alhambra.

"And as you'll see," explains Mr. Hemphill, "they are fashioned of a soft but durable leather, making them comfortable as well as long wearing."

"I like this two-tone effect," adds Irene Werre. "It's the latest thing."
"Have you noticed these Amigos for men—no lacing on top but elastic set in the side? Gee, you can slip them on and just knock around or wear them with a dressy outfit," marvels Hugh.
Yes, they're a big value at $6.50 and $6.00 a pair.

says our dictionary, has several interpretations. There is civil liberty, or guaranteed protection against interference with rights and privileges. There is the political liberty of those who have the right to share in framing and conducting their government. There is individual liberty . . . and personal liberty . . . and in any interpretation, liberty is the ideal we Americans hold most precious. When our Declaration of Independence was conceived . . . when it was read to the people of the land—as George Washington read it to his troops stationed at Cambridge—the meaning of liberty loomed so important in the minds of those who were offering their lives to insure it, that more strived-for than brilliant rhetoric . . . or fiery oratory, was achievement of a simple guarantee of liberty for all Americans who should come to be the land's future generations. And so they endeavored to guarantee to posterity Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness; and because of their sincerity of purpose, tenacity of will, and shining spirit was created a document of government so great that it will endure! We have only to keep its principles part and parcel of our thinking—of every motivation in our daily living—to foster in our children the same deeply rooted belief and faith which was the inspiration for the founding of this—the land of the free!

And my school spirit rose ten degrees when I saw this pom pom of red carnations with the white 'M. K.' It's just the thing for football games," exclaims Rae Clark, striking titian from Mark Keppel.

"Yes," agrees Betty Thorson, lovely blonde Alhambra majorette, "but I was just admiring the beautiful corsage of blue Iris Jeanne's wearing. It's exquisite with Jeanne's dark hair and the white of her formal."

"Thank you," acknowledges Jeanne, "and your corsage of pink camillias goes marvelously with your blue dress."

Hi Moors!

"Toby," says Bud Davidson, doubles star. "I think your rackets are plenty O.K. . . . and I like to see an Alhambra athlete who made all four varsity major sport letters putting his sports experience to as good use as you are here in your new store. What year was it that you were All-Coast League basketball forward, Toby?"

"Oh, that was when I was young and reckless," admits Toby Heeb. "away back in '34."

"I think they should call bicycling a major sport too, it's so much fun," adds Gerry Griest, sports-minded A. H. S. glamour girl. "Make this bike a 'gift wrap'. Toby, I'm going to give it to myself for graduation."

Johnny Petrovich, resting a "Big Stick" on his All-Southern shoulders, cuts in with "Boy, did I get a bang out of the badminton set I got from Toby with that $10 merchandise order!"

"That's right," laughs Bud. "You All-Stars better stick together. Toby was chosen halfback on the 'Little All-American' when he was Fresno State captain in 1938, you know."

"If there had been a high school All-American this year, I'll bet Johnny Petrovich would have been captain," ventures sun-tanned Gerry. Whereupon Johnny, who is extremely modest as well as bashful, wields the Toby Heeb bat with precision.
